PRESIDENT WILL RUN OWN OFFICE WHILE IN EUROPE

Statement Made by Official in Washington That Wickersham Was Taft's Adviser, Not Wilson's.

PARTY TO LAND AT BREST, PARIS HEARS

Wilson Will Be Met There by Two Cabinet Ministers and Received in Paris by Poincare, Matin Says.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—By an official of the administration today the positive announcement was made that President Wilson, while on his trip to Europe, will continue to exercise the full functions of the President of the United States. In reply to the criticism of former Attorney-General George W. Wickersham, who said in New York last night that the Vice President might have to take Mr. Wilson's place, this statement was made: "Mr. Wickersham was the adviser to President Taft. He is not adviser to President Wilson."

Up to noon today no announcement had been made of the names of delegates to the peace conference nor of the number of delegates. Whether the President will address Congress on Monday or Tuesday depends, it is said, on the wish of Congress. It is known that the President wants to deliver his message as soon as possible.

Henry White for Delegate.

It is learned on good authority that Henry White of Washington, former Ambassador to France, is being seriously considered by the President as the Republican member of the peace commission.

The positive announcement was made today from an official source that there will be no censorship on news from the peace conference. On the contrary, it was stated, every possible agency will be put at the disposal of newspaper men in order that full accounts of the proceedings may be cabled to America. The statement was called forth by recent criticisms voiced in Congress, notably those of Senators Sherman and Watson, who professed to see a sinister significance in the fact that the cables have been taken over by the Government.

President Wilson himself is expected to make a statement setting forth that it is the intention of the Government to assure a full and free flow of news from the conference.

The President is going to take ship immediately after addressing Congress, which may be either Monday or Tuesday. He will go from the capitol to the train and from the train to the ship at Hoboken. The day before he goes the newspaper correspondents will set sail in advance. As the President is on a faster ship, it will pick up the vessel that carries the newspaper correspondents and both vessels will enter port on the other side under convoy. The newspaper boat goes out under sealed orders, which would seem to indicate that the first destination of the presidential party is not to be made known until he has made his landing.

Wilson Expected to Land at Brest, Paris Paper Says.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—It seems decided that President Wilson will land at Brest, according to the Matin. He will be met there by Stephen Pichon, Foreign Minister, and Georges Leygues, Minister of Marine, who will welcome him in the name of the French Government. They will accompany him to Paris, where President Poincare will await the distinguished visitor, surrounded by all the other members of the Government and the chiefs of the allied armies.

A Rome dispatch says the Italian Government has chosen the delegation which will come to Paris to take part in the reception of President Wilson The delegation includes Premier Orlando, Gen. Armando Diaz, commander of the Italian armies, and several Senators and members of the Chamber of Deputies.

President's Steamer Being Redecorated for Trip Across.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The saloons and cabins of the steamship George Washington, which is to take President Wilson and his party to the peace conference, are being redecorated at Hoboken by workmen from the navy yard, and it is expected that she will be ready to move into the Hudson River on Dec. 3. The camouflage paint on the ship has been covered with the reg-

Final Appeal to City for War Fund Quota; Campaign Ends Today

A FINAL appeal to St. Louis to subscribe its United War Work Fund quota, issued by Thomas H. West and W F. Carter, chairman and vice chairman, respectively, of the St. Louis Committee of the United War Work Campaign, follows:

"This is our last appeal for the United War Work Fund. Tonight the campaign closes. The time has expired, with three days' grace. Shall we meet our obligations on the last day of grace or let them go by default? Think what it would mean to have maintained up to this time the maximum credit throughout the country, of which we are justly proud, and now that the war is over to have this campaign fail and blot this record. It would forever be held against us, and I am sure we would always regret it. Business men know that credit is very sensitive and that once impaired it takes a long time to recover from it. Our credit will be and should be impaired if we fall down now.

"Ingratitude is one of the worst traits in man, and we appeal to you again to come to the rescue. We appeal to you to do this first as an obligation and last as a matter of civic pride. Many of our people have responded liberally, but some have not thought it necessary; some have done nothing at all. You still have time to come forward voluntarily and help to see it through. The united country has given its full quota. Shall we switch to the rear after being the leaders and an inspiration to the balance of the country? It is now with you. Your committees have done their best and can do no more."

CITY NEEDS $253,815 TODAY TO MAKE QUOTA

$1,996,184 Raised Against $2,250,000 Sought for War Work; Campaign Ends Tonight.

St. Louis must subscribe $253,815.96 today to reach its quota of $2,250,000 in the United War Work campaign, which ends tonight. It subscribed $132,145.29 yesterday. The total collection to date is $1,996,184.04.

Five hundred women in the uniforms of Y. M. C. A. canteen workers, Y. W. C. A., Knights of Columbus canteen workers, the Salvation Army and other war activities are working in the downtown district, each accompanied by a man in the uniform of some branch of the national service. Six drum corps and five detachments of the Great Lakes naval band are parading through the streets of the business district.

St. Louis has oversubscribed every previous war fund. Failure to reach the quota today will be the city's first failure in the war period.

Missouri, outside St. Louis, has subscribed $3,552,000 up to noon yesterday, a figure above its quota, but short of its goal of $4,500,000.

Among the large subscriptions yesterday were: Illinois Steel Co., $7500; Grace Valle January, $2500; Isabel Valle January, $2500; Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Jones, $1000; Liggett Realty Co., $3000; Charles F. Luehrman Lumber Co., $1000; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McDonald, $1200; Mrs. Estella McElroy, $1500; McLain Orthopedic Sanitarium, $1000; Globe Printing Co., $3000; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Martin, $2000; David May, $1200; Moloney Electric Co., $1000; Moss Tie Co., $2000; National Oats Co., $1000; John J. O'Fallon, $1200; John F. O'Neil, $2000; Railway Steel Spring Co., $1000; Rosenthal-Sloan Millinery Co., $2400; St. Joseph Lead Co., $20,000; St. Louis Screw Co., $2000; St. Louis and San Francisco Railway, $2500; Phillip C. Scanlan, $1000; Schlueter Manufacturing Co., $1200; Martin Shaughnessy, $1500; Mrs. Sarah H. Shepley, $1200; John F. Shepley, $2000; M. E. Singleton, $1200; J. Herndon Smith, $1000; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith Jr., $1250; Southern Wheel Co., $2500; Standard Oil Corporation, $1200; E. H. Steedman, $2000; Mrs. Frank C. Thompson, $500; Frank C. Thompson, $1000; Trorlicht-Duncker Carpet Co., $2000; Bakers' Supply Co., $1500; United Shoe Manufacturing Co., $1000; United States Rubber Co., $5000; Wagner Electric Co., $12,000; Aaron Waldheim, $3000; William R. Warner & Co., $1800; Walsh Fire Clay Products Co., $1200; A. T. West, $1000; Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Wilkinson, $1200; employes of the St. Louis Postoffice, $7100.

PREMIER GERBEL REPORTED TO BE IN ACCORD WITH ENTENTE

Also Says in Interview Ukraine Will Belong to the New Russian State.

By the Associated Press.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 27.—Premier Gerbel of Ukraine has declared in an interview that Ukraine is already in full accord with the Entente, whose representatives are expected at Kiev soon, according to a Kiev dispatch to the Rhenish Westpalien Gazette of Essen.

He added that Ukraine will belong to the new Russian Federal state.

49 PRIESTS SLAIN BY GERMANS, SAYS CARDINAL MERCIER

Clergymen Tortured Before Being Put to Death, He Avers — 12,000 Laymen Removed to Germany.

GOVERNOR RIDICULED AID FROM AMERICA

General Told Spanish Ambassador U. S. Would Need Three Years to Get Army in Field.

By the Associated Press.

MALINE, Belgium, Nov. 27.—Forty-nine Belgian priests were tortured and pct to death by the Germans during the occupation, Cardinal Mercier, the Primate of Belgium, declared, in an interview today. He added that 12,000 men were removed from his diocese to Germany, where they were forced to work. Other crimes committed by the Germans, the Cardinal said, were too long and too terrible to relate briefly.

Cardinal Mercier said he was happy to see Germany defeated, adding: "The barbarian formula of might over right has received the final death blow. German dreams of world domination have been shattered. Honor only is paid to the right, and restored Belgium stands free and independent.

"The integrity of the marvelous French nation, which roused the admiration of the entire world by its unshakable tenacity, remains absolutely complete. The Christian faith has been re-established."

Spaniard Warned Germany.

The Cardinal related that in the early stages of unrestricted German submarine warfare, the Marquis of Villalobar, the Spanish Minister to Belgium, called on the German Governor-General in Brussels and asked him to intervene with Berlin to limit the submarine warfare to the belligerents. The Spanish Minister gave the Governor this advice:

"The Americans are exaspered and are on the verge of joining the allies, which will mean the defeat of the Central Empires."

"We have no fear whatever of the Americans who will never be able to help the allies," the Governor-General replied haughtily. Three years at least will be necessary for them and France and her modest ally, the British, will be crushed long before that."

"Triumph of Justice Complete."

Cardinal Mercier concluded by saying that the Spanish Minister had made the true prediction. He paid tribute to the armies of France, Great Britain and the United States.

"The triumph of pustice is complete," the Cardinal added, "and right has been victoriously vindicated."

REQUEST FOR MESSAGE FROM EX-KAISER TO U. S. FUTILE

By the Associated Press.

AMERONGEN, Holland, Wednesday, Nov. 20.—William Hohenzollern's entourage has been asked by the Associated Press if the former emperor has any message to send to the American people. The following reply was received today:

"His Majesty's suite regrets that it is unable to submit this demand to His Majesty."

This forenoon the former emperor, accompanied by Count von Bentinck and preceded and followed by a guard of rural police, walked to the Rhine, which is a half hour's walk from the castle. He spent some time viewing the Count's property there.

Hohenzollern is in constant communication with the German Legation at The Hague.

NO TURKEY AT CITY INSTITUTIONS

Guests of St. Louis will have to be content with Thanksgiving dinner without turkey. The price of turkey, when quoted to the city Monday at 38 cents a pound wholesals, was considered too luxurious a price for the meat course at the jail and the city institutions. Until last year turkey had been served to the city's wards each Thanksgiving, but then, as this year, the cost was considered too great.

The nearest approach to turkey will be chicken, which will be served to the patients at the city hospital, costing 26¾ cents a pound. At the sanitarium roast beef will be served and the infirmary, ham. The jail inmates will have to be satisfied with rabbit, which sell at $4 a dozen.

John W. Davis at New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—John W. Davis, newly appointed American ambassador to Great Britain, was a passenger on the French Line steamer Espagne, which arrived here today from Bordeaux. He was recently in Berne attending the conference of American and German delegates on the exchange of war prisoners.

17 AIRPLANES FLY FROM SCOTT FIELD TO INDIANAPOLIS

Six of 23 Starters Fail to Finish —Aviator Frostbitten—Machines to Be Rebuilt.

Twenty-three airplanes, it was learned today, departed from Scott Field Monday at 10:20 a. m., for Indianapolis, 17 completing the trip without mishap. The others were forced down by engine trouble. The first of the ships covered the approximate 105 miles in two hours and 35 minutes flying time. The planes descended at Casey, Ill., for gas.

An officer who made the flight said that it was so cold at an altitude of 4300 feet, which the planes maintained, that his toes were frostbitten. He said that the flight was considered a good accomplishment because all the planes had been condemned under the rule providing that a plane must be rebuilt after 300 hours of flying. It was deemed easier to fly the planes to the shops at Indianapolis rather than knock them down and ship them by rail.

He said further that the plane in which he flew was compelled to descend 75 miles north of the Indianapolis speedway, the pilot having lost the way and gas having given out. Gas was obtained, he said, from the threshing outfit of a farmer, the lowest grade on the market, and with that fuel the plane arrived at Indianapolis after nightfall. He said they were compelled to circle the city more than 20 times before they were able to find their landing place.

BARUCH SAID TO HAVE BEEN OFFERED TREASURY PORTFOLIO

Reported to Be Disinclined to Accept Because of Nature of His Wealth.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the War Industries Board, it is understood today, has been offered the post of Secretary of the Treasury to succeed Secretary McAdoo.

Whether he will be nominated is an open question. Without actually declining to serve, it is said, Baruch has urged upon the President strongly his belief that he should not enter the Cabinet, on the ground that his wealth, largely in Government and other securities, would be seriously embarrassing.

For Director of Railroads, to succeed McAdoo, Charles A. Prouty, now director of the Railroad Administration's division of public service and accounts, is believed to be one of the men under consideration.

CERTIFICATES OF INDEBTEDNESS FOR $600,000,000 ARE ISSUED

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27. — In preparation for the fifth war loan, the Treasury announced today the issuance of $600,000,000 or more of certificates of indebtedness, payable May 6, 1919, and paying 4½ per cent interest.

The subscription period will run from Dec. 5 to Dec. 10. The maturity date of the issue indicates that the fifth loan will be floated in April.

The offering of tax certificates dated Nov. 7 and due March 15 closes tonight.

3 SUGAR HOARDERS FINED $250

Henry C. Kassing of 4561 Harris avenue, president of the Kassing Furniture Co., Fourteenth street and St. Louis avenue; his son-in-law, Fred Gossen of 2817 Adelaide avenue, vice president of the same company, and Jacob Wafenschmidt, a huckster, of 2728 Nebraska avenue, were fined $250 each by Judge Dyer in the Federal Court today for hoarding sugar.

A 100-pound sack of sugar was found in Kassing's home. Gossen had 60 pounds scattered in small parcels about his house, and Waffenschmidt had 200 pounds, a part of which was in his stable.

16 BREWERIES HERE PREPARE TO CLOSE SATURDAY NIGHT

Step Necessitated by Recent Federal Order Forbidding the Manufacture of Beer From Dec. 1.

10,000 EMPLOYES WILL BE AFFECTED

Value of Building Housing Plants Estmated at About $20,000,000 and Investment at $100,000,000.

The 16 St. Louis breweries are preparing to close down their plants next Saturday night in compliance with the Government order which prohibits the manufacture of beer and near-beer after Dec. 1.

C. Norman Jones, secretary and treasurer of the St. Louis Brewing Association, which controls five St. Louis breweries, discussing the general situation, said that there were 16 St. Louis-owned breweries, all here with the exception of one East St. Louis plant. The breweries employ 10,000 men, he said, many of whom had been in the service 30 or 40 years.

Jones said that the breweries here began preparing last September for the last days of their existence by increasing the manufacture of their products to full storage capacity. He said that when the last beer is brewed next Saturday there will be 10,000,000 barrels on hand in St. Louis and that the supply will last the normal retail trade about from three to four months.

The breweries here, he said, each occupied an average of more than a block and a half of ground and consisted of groups of 10 to 20 buildings to each plant. He said that 20,000,000 pounds of corn products had gone to waste in the hands of St. Louis brewers, as a result of the Government order discontinuing their use in the manufacture of beer after Oct. 1, last year. The grits were good for nothing but hog feed, he said.

Buildings Worth $20,000,000.

The physical value of the buildings now being operated by St. Louis breweries, Jones stated, is about $20,000,000, and their business, in its entirety, represents an investment of about $100,000,000.

There will be no malt or hops wasted as a result of the order stopping the manufacture of beer, he said, as those stocks will be preserved for future use, in the event of the order being rescinded.

The breweries in the St. Louis Brewing Association are the Green Tree, Hyde Park Draught, Hyde Park Bottled, Wainwright and City.

Those controlled by the Independent Breweries corporation are the National, Columbia, Gast, American and Central of East St. Louis.

The breweries operated independently are the Anheuser-Busch, Lemp, Schorr-Kolkschneider, Union, Obert and Stifel.

Anheuser-Busch Plans.

For the purpose of keeping its brewing organization together as far as possible, the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association announced that it has devised a plan of laying off its employes in the manufacturing departments in sections ofr a week at a time until the Government perimts a return to the brewing of beer or soft drinks. The general manager, Henry Menzenwerth, said that in ordinary times the brewery employed as many as 3500 men and girls. The girls work only in the bottling section. The present working force, due to the war and other causes, has been reduced to about 1800. The value of the plant is placed at $60,000,000. Its buildings cover 142 acres.

"We have on hand at present," Menzenwerth said, "enough beer and Bevo to carry us to the first of June. This, of course, depends a good deal on the demand. There has been a falling off in the demand for beer, which is attributed to several causes. The reduction of the alcoholic contents of beer, brought about by the war restriction, has helped bring this about."

Menzenwerth said there would be a heavy loss if the hops and cereals on hand were placed on the market at this time. "We have a stock of ingredients worth at least $1,500,000, but, of course, we could not realize this amount, if we went into the market as sellers," said he. "Our hops cost us 80 and 85 cents a pound, and we would be lucky if we realized 20 cents, if we sould the stock. We will retain all this stock pending further developments. We have at present about 200 brewers and malsters at work, and Sunday will see the end of their work, for the time being, at least. Then there are some 200 machinists, blacksmiths, meatal workers, carpenters and other mechanics whose work will necessarily cease.

"We will, of course, do our best to hold our organization together. The echanics could find work in other

WILHELM MUST LEAVE IF PRESENCE IMPERILS DUTCH, SAYS HOLLAND'S PREMIER

British and French Talk of Question of Extradition of Former Emperor—Law Officers Studying Situation.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—William Hohenzollern will have to leave Holland if his presence there becomes perilous to that country, Premier Ruija de Beerenbrouck is quoted by the Amsterdam correspondent of the Daily Express as declaring in the second chamber of the Dutch Parliament, Nov. 20.

"The Kaiser is in Holland as a private person," said the Premier as quoted by the correspondent "The hospitality of the country is extended him in accordance with a centuries-old tradition. But it goes without saying that the moment his sojourn becomes a danger to the State he will have to leave. We believe the Kaiser and those with him understand the position and will act according to their interests."

The Evening News says it understands the law officers have concluded that the allies are entitled to demand the extradition of the former Emperor, and that this decision applies also to individuals who have committed or given instructions for the commission of extraditable crimes. It is added that Holland takes the view that she has not the power to surrender such persons without the consent of Germany.

The French Premier, M. Clemenceau, recently requested of Charles Lyon-Caen, dean of the faculty of law of the University of Paris, an opinion on the possibility of the extradition of William Hohenzollern. M. Lyon-Caen asked to be given time to prepare a decision.

One of the leading French authorities on international law, Edouard Clunet, is reported to have advanced the opinion that it was impossible to demand the one-time Emperor's extradition.

The former Emperor has been indicted three times for murder in England in connection with the sinking of the Lusitania, German aerial raids and the shelling by warships of unfortified east coast towns.

British and French Consider Question of Extradition.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Tuesday, Nov. 26.—The Foreign Office confirms the report that British law officers of the crown, in co-operation with the French authorities, are considering the question of the extradition of the former German Emperor. The Foreign Office says that the law officers have not yet made a report and consequently no action has yet been taken.

INFLUENZA LIKELY TO CLOSE SCHOOLS AGAIN

Starkloff "About Decided" on Action, Following Report of 709 New Cases.

The developmetn of more than 700 cases of influenza in St. Louis in 24 hours caused Health Comimssioner Starkloff to announce this afternoon that he had "practically made up his mind" to again order the closing of the public schools, which were closed on account of influenza Oct. 7 and reopened two weeks ago.

This decision was reached after a conference between Health Department officials and Supt. Withers and Dr. James Stewart, ehad of the department of hygiene in public schools.

Commissioner Starkloff said he would have another conference with his assistant, Dr. G. A. Jordan, later in the afternoon, and would then formulate influenza regulations to be enforced by the police.

General Closing Unlikely.

The Commissioner said he would not close any business and would not call a meeting of his Medical Advisory Committee.

"Whatever I may do will be done on my own responsibility," he said. "There seems to be no need for a general closing order. About 53 per cent of the new cases are among children."

Other officials also met to consider means of checking the disease.

At a conference between Mayor Kiel and the commtitee in charge of the arrangements for the public Thanksgiving meeting planned for tomorrow night at the Armory, it was decided to cancel the meeting on account of the increase in influenza.

A meeting of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the Victory celebration and parade at the Coliseum on Dec. 7, was called for 2 o'clock at the Mayor's office to decide whether to proceed with the plans.

709 New Cases Reported.

The highest number of new influenza cases reported in asingle day in St. Louis was reached today, when 709 cases were reported for the 24 hours ending at noon. The previous high number for a day was 612 cases on Oct. 12 and Oct. 15.

The number reported yesterday was 512, so that today's figures show an increase of 187 cases over yesterday's total.

There were 35 deaths yesterday, compared with 25 the day before.

Of the 690 cases reported today, 50 were at the SS. Mary and Joseph's Orphan Asylum in Carondelet. The other cases were in homes and hospitals in all parts of the city.

Since Oct. 7 there have been 18,079 cases of influenza in St. Louis and 1029 deaths from this disease and 458 pneumonia deaths.

Kansas City Schools Closed Again.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 27.—All public schools of this city again were ordered closed last night, until further notice, on account of an increase in the number of influenza cases here.

CROWN PRINCE GOING BACK? THAT DEPENDS

Situation in Germany the Answer; 'Like Englisr Sportsman' on Way to Wieringen.

Copyright, 1918, by the Press Publishing Co. (New York World.)

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The correspondent of the London Daily News at Rotterdam, under date of Friday, telegraphs the following:

"The former German Crown Prince appears to have chatted freely with a number of Dutch journalists, who, at Amsterdam, boarded the train conveying him toward the place of his internment on the Island of Wieringen.

"He wore a brown suit, with a soft collar and a green tie, brown leather leggings and boots, and, according to one account, looked like an English sportsman. One of the journalists impressed by the fact that in neither his appearance nor his manner was any trace of hardship or of depression.

"'Do you know how long you will be at Wieringen?' he was asked.

"'No,' he replied,

"'Do you think of going back to Germany?'

"'That depends on what may happen there.'

"'Have you seen your father?'

"'No, nor heard from him either for some weeks.'

"'Is your wife going to join you at Wieringen?'

"'No, she will stay in Germany."

Former Crown Prince Gets Icy Reception at Wieringen.

By the Associated Press.

AMSTERDAM, Friday, Nov. 22.—The tug bearing the former German Crown Prince to the island of Wieringeh was unable to make the harbor there last night, owing to the fog. It turned back and spent the night at Medemblik. When the fog lifted this morning it started once more and arrived at Wieringen this afternoon. The former Crown Prince was given an icy reception by the stolid islanders.

Burgomaster Deereboom, who is also the chief of the local police and will exercise direct supervision over the person of the former Crown Prince, inducted him to an ancient cab, in which he was driven to the Oosterland parsonage, his place of refuge. He will have the companionship of Majs. Maller and White. The officers have taken quarters at a small hotel near by at Hipolitshoeft.

Frederick William is not supposed to leave the island except by special permission from the home office at The Hague. He gets food cards, the same as an ordinary citizen. In the Bible class room adjoining the parsonage hangs the picture of the prodigal son.

FEW THANKSGIVING WEDDINGS

Only Six Licenses Issued This Morning—Seventy-Eight Last Year.

On account of the war there will be a dearth of Thanksgiving weddings. Up to noon today only six licenses had been issued by License Clerk Ruedi at the city hall.

Before the war Thanksgiving was the greatest wedding day of the year. Last year 78 licenses were issued for Thanksgiving weddings, and in 1916 the number was 89.

ALL BUT FEW GERMANS FOR AN ASSEMBLY

Spartacus Group of Extremists Seem to Be Only Faction Opposing Calling of National Meeting as Soon as Possible.

CREDIT SECURITY DECLARED ESSENTIAL

Federal Conference Declares for German Unity and Against All Separatist Movements—Would Sustain Banking System.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Tuesday, Nov. 26.—The events of the last few days, culminating Monday in the meeting of the heads of the various German states at Berlin, have indicated that, with the exception of the numerically unimportant Spartacus group, there is complete agreement in Germany that a national assembly must be held.

While the majority Socialists and Bourgeoise desire the assembly to be summoned as speedily as possible, the Independent Socialists take the stand that the introduction of socialist reforms is more important and must be brought about first. The Independent Socialists desire that, when the assembly eventually comes into being, it shall find itself faced by a collection of reforms so firmly established that it cannot undo them.

In their efforts to postpone the summoning of the assembly, the Independent Socialists are supported by the Spartacus group, who oppose the assembly altogether.

Statement by Haase.

The attitude of the Independent Socialists was stated by Herr Haase in an address to Independent Socialists Monday night. He declared the assembly must be convened, but that the most vital interests of the proletariat demanded that the ground gained by the revolution must first be fortified securely, while the proletariat still has the power to do so.

Herr Haase discussed the alleged difficulties in the way of an early meeting of the assembly and declared that the returning soldiers knew nothing of politics, and must have an opportunity to inform themselves. He declared the assembly must not be convened before the German prisoners of war return and have an opportunity to vote. This would be impossible if the assembly is held in February.

Other Independent Socialists go so far as to declare that eventual occupation by allied troops would be a cheap price to pay for a complete victory of socialism, by which they apparently mean the independent brand of socialism.

Election Difficulties.

The attitude of the majority Socialists in the Government is set forth by Philipp Scheidemann in the Vorwaerts. He declares that the alleged technical difficulties in the way of early elections can easily be overcome.

There is not need, he says, for the usual preliminary registration and the drafting of election lists. Every soldier has a military pass upon the presentation of which he would be able to vote wherever he might happen to be. The pass could be stamped to prevent repeating. A uniform pass easily could be issued to other citizens and women entitling them to vote in the same manner as the soldiers.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Tuesday, Nov. 26, via Copenhagen.—The German Federated Conference has adopted the following resolutions:

There is absolute necessity for all German tribes to act in unison for the maintenance of Germany's unity and to fight all the separatist movements.

The proposal for a speedy summoning of the national assembly meets general approval.

Until meeting of the national assembly, the Soldiers' and Workmen's Councils will represent the people's will. The administration of empire is required to work for the securing of a preliminary peace with the utmost speed.

Dr. August Mueller, Minister of Economy, gave warning against unauthorized encroachments on the money and credit systems by complicated governmental machinery. The following resolution was then unanimously adopted:

It is absolutely necessary that banks and other credit institutions work on the same basis and in the same form as hitherto to maintain Germany's economic affairs, secure for the country supplies of provisions and raw mate-

London Papers Are Agreed That Bavarian Disclosures Are Conclusive as to Central Powers' Guilt.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Monday, Nov. 25.—"We demand the immediate convening of a revolutionary tribunal for the purpose of passing sentence on the Hohenzollerns, father and son, and on Von Bethmann-Hollweg," says the Red Flag, the organ of Dr. Karl Liebknecht, in commenting on the disclosures made in Munich concerning the complicity of Germany in bringing about the war. "William II must be commanded to return and give an account before this tribunal."

The Spartacus organ also demands a reckoning with the Socialist leaders, Ebert, David, Molkenbuhr and others for participation in propaganda calculated to absolve Germany from responsibilty for causing the war.

"We have been told that Germany had no knowledge of Austria's ultimatum to Serbia. It was a lie," says the Vorwaerts. "Berlin was said to have admonished Vienna to go slow. It was a lie.

"On the contrary, Berlin incited Vienna.

"Base, Impudent, Shameless."

"In the course of his proclamation William II declared 'In the midst of peace we are attacked by the enemy.' A base, impudent, bottomless, shameless lie.

"And does this band of mass murderers, who, in the progress of the revolution and through the generosity of the German people managed to escape unhurt, really still believe it can once more establish its blood-stained, lie-bedecked rule?"

The organ of the Independent Socialists, Die Freiheit, says:

"They committed high treason. We cannot lay hands on William and his son, but it is to be hoped that they will yet be brought to justice. Their fortunes, however, must be confiscated. Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, former Chancellor, and Von Jagow and Zimmerman, former German Foreign Secretaries, who were their tools, must forthwith be arrested and brought into court."

The conservative Taeglische Rundschau asserts that the disclosures not only are inopportune, in view of the negotiations "for a revision of the armistice conditions," but primarily are intended to stimulate a revolutionary sentiment.

Count Reventlow, in the Tages Zeitung, says that neither Bethmann-Hollweg nor his associates desired a world war and that they were not prepared for it. The Count adds:

"It is not to be denied, however, that their jumbling was responsible for complications which ultimately involved Germany."

Revelations Made by Bavaria Discussed by London Press.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Tuesday, Nov. 26.—Newspapers here devote much space to discussions of the revelations made by Bavaria in publishing official telegrams which passed between Berlin and Munich just before the war broke out in 1914. They agree that the guilt of Germany and Austria, persistently denied during the past four years, has been approved by the Bavarian Government.

"Germany has been challenged again and again to produce the whole correspondence between Berlin and Vienna during July, 1914," says the Times. She has never dared produce it. Will the new Government dare—just to show the gulf between it and its predecessors? Bavaria has moved she was an accomplice of Berlin and Vienna. She supported them until they lost and she shall not whiten her character in the eyes of the allies by blackening the records of her confederates."

"Thus was the blood bath prepared. Is the Kaiser to be allowed to go without trial?" is the comment of the Express.

SENATE COMMITTEE PLANS TO TAKE UP 1920 REVENUE TODAY

Republican Members Are Expected to Vigorously Oppose All Schedules in That Part of Bill.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—With the revenue schedules for 1919 under which it is planned to raise $6,000,000,000 by taxation, nearing completion, the Senate Finance Committee today plans to consider the provisions of the revenue bill relating to imposts to be laid in 1920. Republican members of the committees, defeated in their initial attempt to eliminate the 1920 portion of the bill, are expected to enter vigorous opposition to all schedules in that part of the measure.

The 1920 program as presented by Chairman Simmons, with the approval of Secretary McAdoo, continues many of the taxes of the proposed 1919 measure, but with reductions sufficient to reduce the total yield to $4,000,000,000.

GERMAN DELEGATE TELLS OF CONFERENCES WHEN ARMISTICE WAS SIGNED

Carried on in Businesslike Manner—"Really Nothing to Negotiate—and Were Obliged to Sign"—French Officers Cold.

By the Associated Press.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 27.—The armistice conferences between the German delegates and Marshal Foch and his associates early this month, were carried out in the most business-like manner possible and apparently without notable incidents, according to a long account of the conference given the Berlin Vossiche Zeitung by a member of the German party.

After the French met the German commissioners they were driven for 10 hours in automobiles to an appointed rendezvous. "It seemed to me," says the narrator, "that the drive was intentionally prolonged in order to carry us through the devastated provinces and prepare us for the hardest conditions which hatred and revenge might demand. One of the Frenchmen pointed to a heap of ruins, saying 'behold St. Quentin.'

"We entered a train with blinds drawn in the evening and awoke in the morning in the midst of the forest of Compiegne, surrounded by soldiers.

"There were two trains, one occupied by Marshal Foch and his staff and the other by the Germans. In these we lived, worked and negotiated for three days. We had everything in abundance. There was nothing to find fault with. The great enmity and hatred that apparently prevailed against us were shown, however, in the negotiations and in the terms imposed."

French Officers Cold.

The narrator remarks that the French officers and Vice Admiral Wemyss, British representative, maintained a cold attitude, "never tempered by a friendly word.

"Marshal Foch, whom we only saw twice, at the beginning and at the end of the conference, is a stern, plain man. He did not speak a single word to us in the tone which formerly distinguished the chivalrous French nation. * * *

"It is not true that Foch told us there could not be any question of negotiations, only the imposition of conditions, and whatever coldness he displayed was never ill-mannered or rough. * * *

"Really there was nothing to negotiate. We pointed out the technical impossibility of some conditions. * * * Finally we were obliged to sign. * * *

"No Smile of Triumph."

During the discussion the French handed the Germans the Paris newspapers announcing the abdication of Emperor William.

"We observed no smile of triumph on their faces," adds the writer, "but could discern their hatred."

CONFERENCE IS HELD IN BERLIN FOR THE UNITY OF STATES

rials, and obtain credit abroad for the German republic.

Among the various speakers was Kurt Eisner, Socialist leader of the revolution in Munich, who warned the conference against any attempt to establish a pure Socialistic state while disorder was reigning. He said the Department of Foreign Affairs must have a staff of men of unimpeachable conduct and that a president must be elected so that Germany, as a whole, might be able to negotiate with the Entente Powers.

Against Socialistic State.

Philipp Scheidemann, who resigned as Minister of Finance recently insisted that it was impossible to create a Socialistic state at a time of disorder like the present. He opposed a class Parliament such as the Soldiers' and Workmen's Council must be for a long time. Mueller said that, if the present lawless situation continued, the German state would break financially.

Herr Schaffer, Minister of Finance, outlined an extensive financial program, including sharp measures against taxation, frauds and excessive war profits.

Extremists Outvoted in Many Cities of Germany.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—Reports of tests of strength between the conservative elements and the independent and "Bolshevik" Socialists in various places in Germany continue to indicate that as far as mere numbers go the extremists are almost negligible at this time.

The election to the Soldiers' and Workmen's Council in Dresden on Sunday show that the extremists polled only 4300 votes, against 56,400 for the old Socialists. Both groups of independents won only three or four seats in the council of 50.

Fuller reports from Bremen show that the movement in the coast cities already has turned into a more conservative channel. A meeting of soldiers', workmen's and peasants' councils, representing Bremen, Hanover, Hamburg, Oldenburg, Flensburg, Osnabrueck, Wilhelmshaven and a number of smaller places in the provinces of Hanover and Schleswig-Holstein, adopted a resolution declaring that these councils would stand behind the present Government and demand the convocation of a national assembly. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 81 to 20.

There also was a crushing defeat for the extremists at a meeting representing the Tenth Army Corps at Hanover, where by a vote of 140 to 4 a resolution was adopted against efforts to establish a dictatorship and demanding the summoning of a constituent assembly.

Soldiers from the front are beginning to arrive in Berlin and men who have conversed with them express themselves optimistically as to the result of their arrival, as regards its effect upon the preservation of order. These men declare that the great bulk of the soldiers rejected Bolshevism in all its phases.

It also may perhaps be considered an indication of the general public's faith in the conservatism of the soldiers that German and Prussian flags are beginning to reappear over all Berlin, after having made way for the red flag since Nov. 10. Only in one of the suburbs was any objection raised to the flying of the national flags. Certain elements there tore the Prussian banners from the street cars. Elsewhere the emblms were not disturbed.

Von der Marwitz Appears Leading Big Army at Treves.

By the Associated Press.

AMSTERDAM, Tuesday, Nov. 26.—Gen. von der Marwitz, former Aide-camp to Emperor William, and later commander of German forces on the Verdun front, has arrived at Treves with a big army and appears to be preparing for a counter revolution, according to a sensational dispatch from Berlin, filed there on Nov. 21.

Oldenburg Transformed Into a Republic.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Saturday, Nov. 23 (Berne, Nov. 26.)—The Grand Duchy of Oldenburg has been transformed into a republic under a directory composed of five Social Democrats, two bourgeoise and two former Ministers. The Duke of Brunswick and his family have gone to Augsburg.

It was reported from Copenhagen last Sunday that the United Workers' and Soldiers' Council had proclaimed Oldenburg a republic.

Situation in Bavaria Following the Revolution.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Saturday, Nov. 23.—The revolution in Bavaria has not brought about much change in Munich, according to a special dispatch from that city to the Petit Parisien, and the state machinery continues to run almost normally.

The movement in Bavaria, the correspondent declares, was, and is, completely independent of the other movements in Germany. His resistance to democratic and social reforms lost King Ludwig all the popularity he enjoyed when he was regent of Bavaria and before he became King. The conviction that the war was lost completely turned the people against the Government.

An election to replace Deputy Woolmar, who resigned from the Reichstag, then came up. The majority Socialists brought forward Herr Auer and the minority Socialists Kurt Eisner.

Eisner, the Petit Parisian correspondent continues, organized resistance against dangers likely to favor the development of Bolshevism. The most reliable versions to show that the decisive phase of the crisis came from a carefully elaborated plan prepared by Eisner. Louis Gandorfer, a blind peasant with great influence, undertook to raise the peasantry against the King, but to induce them to continue feeding the capital. At present the majority Socialists and bourgeoisie parties are preparing for the election to the national assembly, which will be held soon. The result of the elections, the correspondent declares, will have a decisive influence which will not be confined to Bavaria.

FRENCH AT GERMAN FRONTIER IN ADVANCE THROUGH LUXEMBURG

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—The French armies, marching through Luxemburg today, reached the German frontier east of Weiswampach and Heinerscheid, according to the War Office announcement tonight.

At Redange, in Luxemburg, a hearty reception was extended by the municipality to the commander of the Forty-eighth Division when it entered the town.

Springfield Dry Ordinance Repealed.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 26.—The prohibition ordinance which was to have gone into effect on Jan. 1 was repealed by the City Council yesterday. In its place an ordinance abolishing saloon licenses after July 1, in conformity with the national measure, signed by the President, was adopted.

ERZBERGER TELLS WHY TERMS ARE DIFFICULT TO MEET

Fears Obligations Under Armistice Will Weaken Country So as to Cause Grave Political Results.

By ARNO DOSCH-FLEUROT.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

BERLIN, via Copenhagen, Nov. 26.—So many persons in the new Government have said to me that it would be impossible for Germany to meet all the conditions of the armistice without involving the ruin of the country that I decided to put their plaint into definite form for what it might be worth and to submit it to Matthias Erzberger, the Centrist leader, who was a member of the delegation sent to the front on the armistice mission. He willingly granted me an interview.

"I signed the armistice because there was nothing else to do," he said. "It had been sought by us at the very crisis of the German political situation. We could not go on without disaster. But even as I signed it I feared it would be impossible to live up to the letter of the agreement. As I said, there was nothing else to do.

"Marshal Foch did not believe in the sincerity of our demand, nor did he appreciate its urgency. I am sure he thought it was a German ruse, designed to gain weeks for repose and for preparation for a new attack. He and the others did not seem to realize that we were forced to sign any conditions, however hard, because Germany must have peace.

"Don't See How We Can Do It."

"Now comes the task of meeting our obligations under the armistice. I do not see how we can do it, except by weakening the country so seriously as to bring on grave political results.

"Evacuation of Northern France and Belgium by our troops in the limited time allowed for that process is almost impossible. We are trying our best. If not forced too hard, we think we can cross the Rhine in fair order. In that movement, however, I count on the extension to us of certain military courtesy, based on common sense, in order to give our slower divisions time to get out ahead of the Entente troops, even if we may be a little late.

"We must leave our army provisions behind, even though the army reserve of provisions is larger than any reserve in Germany, where provisions are sorely needed. I suppose that cannot be helped. We are giving the soldiers what they can carry to eat en route.

"Our fear is that our soldiers furthest from the Rhine may become panicky, fearing they may never reach the Rhine and may be interned thus disrupting the orderly evacuation by the second and third lines.

"Should that occur the army may be thrown into such disorder as to do much harm to the tender young German democracy.

Railroad Equipment Situation.

"A more serious difficulty will be the delivery of railroad equipment within the time provided in the terms of the armistice. If arrangements may be made to defer delivery of the equipment long enough to carry Germany over the critical food situation, then delivery may be easily and willingly made.

"Germany has about 900,000 cars, of which 250,000 are in Poland, Ukraine, Hungary, Bulgaria and Rumania, and this portion is at present valueless to us. The remaining cars are now giving maximum service. There is a car shortage in Germany always in the fall of the year. This season the shortage is unprecedentedly large.

"It has been impossible to handle coal or to move sufficiently such stocks of food as we have. Surrender of 150,000 within the armistice period will make the car situation in the interior of Germany most difficult.

"Our railroad equipment has been badly worn by the war and by our consequent inability to keep up repairs. We are required by the armistice conditions to deliver only good material, leaving to us only the old. The demand for 5000 locomotives is enormous at this time, when one-third of our locomotives are out of commission.

"If we were required to deliver now only the 1800 locomotives and the 70,000 wagons we took from France and Belgium, our position would not be so difficult. An orderly political government must depend upon adequate food supply, and as food must be transported you may readily see the problem we are facing."

Moving War Prisoners.

Erzberger said the evacuation of prisoners of war would be facilitated if all the allied countries would follow the example of England and hurry Red Cross commissions to Berlin. There will be difficulty in the delivery of Russian prisoners, because Poland, Bohemia and Hungary will not let them pass through their territories, and evacuation must be through the Baltic, which is out of German control.

The attitude of Erzberger was more resigned to conditions than I had expected to find it. While he deplored, even doubted, the ability of Germans to abide strictly by the terms of the armistice, he evidently intends to try his best to enable Germany to do everything possible in that direction. In respect to only one matter did he actually complain.

"In the armistice there is a clause providing for supply of food to Germany during the truce," he said. "Thirteen, of our 36 days are past, and yet we see no sign of practical preparations in that respect, although there can be no doubt that we need the food."

He said he was surprised to find no American participant in the armistice conference.

fields, but not the brewers and malsters. Many of these men have been here longer than myself, and I came here 37 years ago. They have been working in cellars since they were young men, and they have grown old in this service. I do not know what other work they might be able to do. We expect to lay them off in rotation, a week at a time, until brewing operations are resumed. The bottling department will continue as long as there is a supply on hand for working, likewise the shipping and delivery departments.

What to Do With Railroad.

Menzenwerth was not prepared to tell what effect the order to stop brewing would have in the glass, cooperage and transportation sections. The Manufacturers' Railway, a Busch property, supplies the brewery and neighboring industrials with switching service, and operates five locomotives. The company also runs its own glass plant for the manufacture of bottles, and does all its own repair work on beer barrels and brewing vats. A large force is employed in both of these sections. Also the company operates a refrigerator car service and maintains a great many cars built for the transportation of beer. This equipment, however, could be utilized for the transportation of other perishable freights.

Henry Vahlkamp, vice president and general manager of the William J. Lemp Brewing Co., said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that his company now has 750 employes and has been releasing members of its force for several weeks in anticipation of the shutdown. Unlike some other breweries, the Lemp plant employed no women in the bottling or manufacturing end of its business, its only women employes being office workers.

The brewery manufactures beer and Cerva, a near-beer. Vahlkamp said there had been a falling off in the demand for beer recently and that the present number of employes was below thea verage.

Present Stocks of Beer.

The company's present stock of beer, he said, would be sufficient to supply the normal demand until about May 1 . Only the employes need to keep up distribution until the stock is exhausted will be kept on the payroll.

Among the company's employes, Vahlkamp said, are 150 elderly men whohave worked for years in the brewery cellars and would be unfit for any other employment.

Vahlkamp estimated the value of the company's stock of malt, hops and cereals on hand to be about $60,000. The hops, he said, had been bought at high prices and probably could be disposed of only at a loss, though it might demand a fair figure in England, where beer is still ebing brewed.

The main plant of the Lemp Brewery covers seven city blocks. Vahlkamp said the buildings and ground alone are valued at $2,500,000 and that machinery and material is worth about the same, bringing the total value to $5,000,000. This is exclusive of branch plants in other cities and of the Cable & Western Railroad, which the brewery operates between the plant and the Iron Mountain Railroad yards on the river front.

Vahlkamp is the oldest brewery employe in St. Louis. He has been with the Lemp Brewery continuously for 50 years.

At the Anheuser-Busch plant it was said that no definite statement as to the closing plans could be given out until later in the day.

Jobs Here for Men, Says U. S. Agent.

Fred B. Dolan, in charge of the local branch of the United States Employment Bureau, in the Pontiac Building, Seventh and Market streets, said that jobs in St. Louis are ready for the brewery workers whenever they apply for them. The St. Louis office has been placing men in jobs in the city and surrounding territory at the rate of 4500 to 4800 a week, he said, and within the next week or so will be able to take care of job seekers at the rate of 7500 a week.

Orders for workingmen are being placed with the bureau here at such a rate, he said, that the clerical force is taxed to its utmost in assigning the applicants.

Firemen, engineers, coopers, mechanics, machinists and other skilled employes of the breweries will find jobs through the bureau at their own trades and will not have to go away from the city, Dolan said. The malsters, laborers and clerical forces of the breweries can obtain work through the bureau, he said, at the same wages, if not better, than they now receive.

Paul V. Bunn, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, conferred in Washington yesterday with Food Administration officials as to the possibility of having the Dec. 1 closing order modified so as not to stop the manufacture of near-beers. He was unsuccessful in having the closing order lifted as to these drinks. It pointed out to him that the order was issued not merely as a food regulation, but also for the saving of fuel and labor, and that only the President could modify the order.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS IDEA MAY LEAD ON PEACE PROGRAM

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Tuesday, Nov. 26.—A League of Nations is likely to figure before the peace conference at a very early stage of the proceedings, instead of being relegated to the close, after the territorial aspirations of the various Powers are settled.

Two distinct viewpoints have now developed in this subject. The American view is that the coming congress will not be like the Vienna congress, which devoted itself principally to arranging what each Power should receive as a result of the Napoleonic upheaval. According to the American view the present war was based on certain high ideals and was not a struggle for territorial gains.

Therefore, it is maintained, ideals should come before territorial aspirations in the deliberations of the congress, and these ideals, having been first defined, should thereafter be the main guide in national aspirations.

One of the chief of these ideals, it is pointed out, was to prevent future warfare, and a League of Nations has been generally and officially accepted as the most practical organization for accomplishing that ideal. It is therefore held that this should be one of the first subjects considered and should set a standard of ideals for other subjects following.

It can be stated that this American view of procedure has found warm supporters in England and France, though there is also another viewpoint which clings to the old procedure under the Vienna congress, whereby claims for territory should have first consideration.

Early Action Desired.

Those urging that territorial questions should come first say that it is highly desirable to sign a peace treaty embodying the essential details at the earliest possible moment, so as to terminate the official war period under which troops are held for the duration of the war and railroads, telegraphs and other public utilities are similarly affected until peace is declared. According to this view an early peace agreement on essentials would release the armies, including the American troops holding the occupied regions.

Having reached an early agreement on territorial and other practical details, it is suggested the larger general questions, like a League of Nations, could come up later for extended discussion either by the peace congress or at a separate international congress to formulate the working details of the league. This view is confidently held by those favoring the old Vienna congress procedure of individual claims first, while the American viewpoint is distinctly favorable to establishing ideals first as the guiding principle of the congress.

The appointment of the Brazilian delegates, Nilo Pechana, the Foreign Minister, and Ruy Barbosa, Ambassador to Argentina, is leading to a discussion as to what extent the South American countries will support a league of nations and the effect of the league on the Monroe Doctrine. It is the general understanding that the South American republics have the same favorable attitude toward a league as the allies.

Whether a league of nations in which Europe would be largely represented, would extend its authority to the Western Hemisphere, including South, Central and North America, is not clear, but the prevailing view is that its authority would be universal.

It is said that this would not be a substitution of the league's authority for the Monroe Doctrine in South American affairs, but rather an extension of the Monroe Doctrine, whereby joint international action would supplement and reinforce the Monroe Doctrine.

Haig Praises Our Troops Who Served With British

By the Associated Press.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN BELGIUM, Sunday, Nov. 24.—The American Second Corps, which served with the British Fourth Army during the closing days of the war, has been rewarded for its work by a glowing letter of praise from Field Marshal Haig, the British Commander in Chief.

The Field Marshal's message to the command of the corps reads:

"Now that you are leaving the British zone I wish again to thank you and all the officers, noncommissioned officers and men on behalf of myself and all ranks of the British armies in France and Flanders for the very gallant and efficient service you have rendered during your operations with the British Fourth Army.

"On the 29th of September you participated with distinction in a great and critical attack which shattered the enemy's resistance on the Hindenburg line and which opened the road to final victory.

"The deeds of the Twenty-seventh and Thirtieth American Divisions which took Bellecourt and Nauroy and gallantly sustained the desperate struggle for Bony will rank with the highest achievements of the war.

"The names of Brancourt, Premont, Busigny, Vaux-Andigny, St. Souplet and Wassigny will testify to the dash and energy of your attacks. I am proud to have had you in my command."

The Thirtieth division mentioned by Field Marshal Haig was known as the Wildcat Division and came from the Southeastern States. The Twenty-seventh and Thirtieth Divisions probably were the first American divisions to fight in Belgium, having crossed the border with the Fourth British Army.

Divisions Mentioned by Haig Expected to Embark for Home Soon.

AMERICAN ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Nov. 26.—The Seventy-sixth Division of the American Army, reduced by replacement drafts to 61 officers and 1000 men, has arrived at the port of St. Nazarie and is embarking for home.

The Twenty-seventh Division, totalling 484 officers and 12,681 men, and the Thirtieth Division, totalling 488 officers and 12,099 men, both of which operated on the British front, have been withdrawn from the Le Mans area and probably will embark in a few days.

SENATOR GARDNER AGAIN TO FIGHT ANNEXATION MOVE

St. Louis Legislator Says Sentiment of People He Represents Is Against Movement.

DOUBTFUL IF PLAN WOULD BE BENEFICIAL

Opposition in Past Has Been Big Factor, Swinging Rural Members—City to Lead Fight.

State Senator A. E. L. Gardner of Kirkwood, who has persistently opposed all efforts of residents of St. Louis to obtain the passage in the Legislature of an act which would permit the county residents as well as those in the city to vote on the question of annexation of a portion or all of the county, will oppose such legislation in the next Legislature, he told a Post-Dispatch reporter today.

Failure of the enabling act to pass at other sessions has been due almost entirely to Senator Gardner, in the opinion of proponents of the proposition. Gardner, through the fact that for years he has been Republican leader in the Senate, wielding such influence on Republican and Democratic Senators alike that the measure always has been defeated.

"Primarily I am representing the people of St. Louis County," Senator Gardner said, "and knowing that the sentiment of the county, both as to residents in the cities and on the farms, is opposed to annexation in any form, I am opposed to any legislation which might threaten their rights.

Says People Oppose It.

"If St. Louis only desires to count our population as a part of St. Louis for census purposes, I would have no objection to that, but I am opposed to annexation because it would mean the obliteration of St. Louis County. Of course the annexation of the territory lying along the edge of St. Louis would take the wealthiest part of the county and would deprive us of the revenue necessary to operate as a county.

"While, of course, it is contended that the proposed legislation is merely an enabling act to permit a vote on annexation, of course that is a most important step.

"It would only serve as a means for vexatious annoyance of the residents of the county with all sorts of elections which the peiple of the county don't want.

Doubtful Advantages.

"We may be pardoned for viewing with suspicion the movement which has originated in the city. There are thousands of residents of St. Louis County who moved out of the city to get away from burdensome taxes and they don't want to be voted back into the city. We cannot believe that the man living on a farm way out in St. Louis County would get the police protection, fire protection, street improvements, etc., that the resident in the heart of the city would get. Those people would be taxed for things they wouldn't get.

"I doubt very much if annexation would mean lower rates from public utilities. The utilities are now under State control and the Public Service Commission can limit their rates to an amount which gives them only a fair return to their investment. I do not believe that mere annexation would decrease the cost of furnishing this service and that there would be any reason for the Public Service Commission to decrease rates if the farm lands of St. Louis County were under city control than if under county control.

City to Fight for Act.

"We in the county do not want to be under ordinances of St. Louis or under the control of the Board of Aldermen of St. Louis. All in all, St. Louis County is a farming community and not a city and, there is no reason why we should want to be absorbed by the city."

Senator Gardner made it clear that he would fight annexation enabling legislation in any form. In previous Legislatures rural members have taken his opposition as an indication that residents of the county are opposed to annexation.

Mayor Kiel, as has been told, has announced that the city will take the lead in asking the Legislature to pass an enabling act for annexation. The Million Population Club has been working for annexation for several years, and recently the Chamber of Commerce joined in the movement.

BODY OF MAN DEAD FEW HOURS FOUND IN TRUNK ON SIDEWALK

No Marks of Violence Discovered by Preliminary Investigation of Mysterious Death in New York.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The body of a man believed to be Joseph Bollaro of Brooklyn was found huddled in a new locked trunk on the sidewalk at the corner of Mott and Grand streets by a policeman early today. A preliminary investigation showed no marks of violence and an autopsy was ordered to determine the cause of death.

In the opinion of physicians the man had been dead only a few hours before the policeman made his discovery.

Four St. Louisans Who Were Killed in Action in France

LIEUT. HARRY CRUMB, officer observer of an aero squadron in France, died from wounds. He was a former employe of the Wagner Electric Co., and was a cousin of Miss Geneva Crumb of 5463 Maple avenue and of Mrs. Bernice Wyer of Kirkwood.

5 MORE ST. LOUISANS ARE REPORTED DEAD

1918 Graduate of St. Louis College of Pharmacy Also Dies.

Clarence I. Roth, 24 years old, of the headquarters company, 128th (St. Louis) Field Artillery, was killed in action Oct. 2, according to an official notification received last night by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Roth of 3634A Botanical avenue. He was formerly employed in the office of the Elder Manufacturing Co. and was one of the selective service men sent to Camp Doniphan to fill the ranks of the St. Louis artillery unit. A brother, Norman, and a sister, Mrs. Sylvia Mathes, survive him.

William J. Hayes, 24, of the headquarters company, 354th Infantry, the Camp Funston regiment containing many St. Louis drafted men, was killed in action Oct. 25, in the Meuse fighting, according to a notification received yesterday by his mother, Mrs. Ellen Hayes of 1209 North Seventeenth street. He was employed in one of the factories of the Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co. before he was drafted last April. Besides his widowed mother, two brothers and three sisters survive him. One brother, Frank, was also drafted, but was lately discharged from a Texas camp because of a slight physical disability.

Albert G. Dumey, 28, of G Company, 354th, was killed in action Sept. 25, according to a notification received by his wife, Mrs. Hazel Dumey of 804 Hickory street. He was listed Nov. 8 as having been missing since Sept. 23.

Clarence J. Brock, 23, of L Company, 354th, was killed in action Oct. 23 and is named in today's official casualty list. His wife, Mrs. Eulalie Brock, lives at 4124 Labadie avenue. He was a stock clerk in the Famous & Barr store and was drafted in September, 1917. In a letter to his wife, written Oct. 4, he said the American Army had the Germans on the run, but that machine-gun nests were still giving trouble.

Deaths From Pneumonia.

Ewart Gladstone Pelley, 27, of E Battery, 339th Field Artillery, an honor graduate of the St. Louis College of Pharmacy, class of 1918, died in France from pneumonia. His home was in De Soto, Mo.

Fred Meyer of the American Ambulance Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ered Meyer of Survey street, Belleville, died of pneumonia Oct. 21, 16 days after his arrival in France, the parents have been notified.

Walter Howard, 25, a negro, of 711 Jefferson street, St. Charles, died on shipboard Oct. 2, his relatives have been notified. He was drafted last summer.

Lemuel L. Redden, 28, a negro, died in France Oct. 17 from pneumonia, according to a notification sent to Mrs. Evelyn Horton, at whose home, 4188 West Belle place, he formerly boarded. Mrs. Horton understood that he was in G Company, 809th Infantry. She has forwarded the notification to Redden's mother, Mrs. Marie Redden, who lives in New Orleans. Redden was a porter in the Railway Exchange building barber shop, and was drafted in September, 1917. He had a brother in the service.

Frank Kemper, 31, of L Company, 110th Infantry, has been missing since Oct. 9, according to a notification sent to his brother, Ben Kemper of 1318 Benton street. He was employed as a cabinet maker by the Logeman Chair Co. before he was drafted in September, 1917.

Locomotive Fireman Gassed.

Edward J. Fowler, 29, of B Company, 354th Infantry, listed today as wounded, degree undetermined, was gassed about Aug. 8, according to a notice sent to his mother, Barker E. Fowler of 4058A Shenandoah avenue. He was a locomotive fireman for the Terminal Association, and was drafted in April.

Sergt. Edward R. White, 26, of the headquarters company, 354th, formerly an electrician in the employ of the Union Electric Co., was seriously injured by gas Aug. 8, his wife, Mrs. Ida White of Fenton, St. Louis County, has been notified. They have a daughter. She received a letter written Sept. 20, saying that he was improving.

Gus J. Sartor, 28, of H Company, Seventh Infantry, a Post-Dispatch employe, who has been officially listed as killed in action Oct. 9, is now believed to be alive. E. A. Hoffman of the Post-Dispatch distribution department has received a letter from Sartor, dated Nov. 8, and postmarked Nov. 10, in which he tells of being in a hospital, wounded in the left foot. His mother, Mrs. Louise Sartor of 2315 Gravois avenue, also has letters of later date than the reported fatality.

Three young men from California, Mo., members of the 138th (St. Louis) Infantry, were among the casualties of the Argonne battle of Sept 26-29, according to a letter written by one of them, T. K. Buchanan, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Buchanan of California. Buchanan said he was wounded slightly, on the 29th, by a machine-gun bullet, and that Bryan Bishop was wounded severely in the arm, and his brother, David Bishop, was gassed. The Bishop boys formerly worked for the Brown Shoe Co. in St. Louis.

Gassed but "Right Side Up."

James J McGuigan of I Company, 138th, has written to his mother, Mrs. E. A. McGuigan, that he was gassed in the Argonne battle, and was sent to a base hospital, but was "right side up."

Ray F. Courson, 22, First Battalion scout, Thirty-fifth Division, was gassed Nov. 1, he has written to Miss Blanche Dunivin of 3620 Washington boulevard. He was in A Company, 138th, before being detached for scout duty. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Courson, live at Arlington, Mo

First Lieutenant Adrian M. Levinson of the 342d Field Artillery, son of Morris G. Levinson of 5330 Pershing avenue, has notified his father that he was slightly wounded and was in a base hospital. He was commissioned at the first officers' training camp at Ft. Riley and was in the St. Mihiel drive with the Eighty-ninth Division.

Dan W. Ewell, Acting Sergeant in the 370th Infantry, a former employe of the Mississippi Valley Trust Co., has written to a friend at the trust company, saying he was wounded in the left shoulder Sept. 30, while charging a German machine gun nest. He said two St. Louis men, Sergt. H. A. Taylor and Corp. W. E. Ellis, carried him, under heavy fire, to a place of safety.

Clarence O'Gorman, 24, of L Company, 356th Infantry, was wounded slightly Oct. 26, and was sent to a base hospital, he has written to his mother, Mrs. T. M. O'Gorman of 7316 Marietta avenue, Maplewood. He is a former employe of the Con P Curran Printing Co.

Edward Kniery, 24, of Alton, who was oficially reported killed in action Oct. 11, is named in a letter written Oct. 18 by a comrade, Thomas Mooney, to his sister, Mrs John Schoenbeckler of Alton, as being in a hospital, wounded severely. He wrote that Kniery's death had been reported, but that this was an error, and said he was sitting beside Kniery's bed as he wrote. A gold star in Kniery's honor, had been placed on the Alton service flag. He was from Litchfield, Ill., but was employed by the Mississippi Sand Co. at Alton.

Corp. McKinley Zeigenbein of M Company, 132d Infantry, has written to his sister, Miss Ethel Zeigenbein of Alton, that he was gassed, and was sent to a base hospital.

James D. Dermody, listed today as missing, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Dermody of Lebanon, St. Clair County, and has been in France about six months.

Joseph Heckmann, 24, of E Company, Forty-seventh Infantry, is listed today as missing, but his wife and his parents, living at 810 North Benton avenue, St. Charles, have received a letter from him, dated Nov. 2, in which he wrote that he was well.

How Fat Actress Was Made Slim

Many stage people now depend entirely upon Marmola Prescription Tablets for reducing and controlling fat. One clever actress tells that she reduced two to four pounds a week by using this new form of the famous Marmola Prescription, and now, by taking Marmola Tablets several times a year, keeps her weight just right. All druggists sell Marmola Prescription Tablets at 75 cents for a large case. Or you can get them by sending price direct to the Marmola Co., 864 Woodward Av., Detroit, Mich. If you have not tried them do so. They are harmless and effective.—ADV.

TRY THIS IF YOU HAVE DANDRUFF

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—ADV.

ORRINE FOR DRINKING MEN

We are in earnest when we ask you to give Orrine a trial. You have nothing to risk and everything to gain, for your money will be returned if after a trial you fail to get results from Orrine. Orrine can be given in the home secretly, without publicity or loss of time.

Orrine No. 1, secret treatment; Orrine No. 2, voluntary treatment. Costs only $1.25 a box. Ask us for booklet.

MOVE FOR RETURN OF UTILITIES TO OWNERS

Chamber of Commerce Considering Plan That Is Designed to Be National in Scope.

Plans for a nation-wide organization to be known as "The League for the Return of Liberty," or by some such designation, are receiving consideration in the Chamber of Commerce.

A special committee consisting of George D. Markham, president of an insurance agency; Henry J. Steinbreder, president of the Fulton Iron Works, and Paul Brown, editor of a semi-monthly publication, has been holding meetings and working out the details preparatory to submitting the plan to the National Chamber of Commerce, with the hope that it will induce the 1200 or more organizations associated in its membership, to co-operate in the movement to aid in the settlement of questions that will come with he ratification of peace.

The project was brought before the chamber by Markham, its former first vice president, and as the development has not gone beyond the preliminary stage, none of the spokesmen for the chamber of Commerce are prepared to discuss it. It is known, however, that the project has an important bearing on the reconstruction work that will engage the attention of the present and succeeding congresses.

It is proposed, primarily, to develop a sentiment for the return of the railoads and other utilities taken over by the Government as war necessities, as speedily as the public interest will permit. In its broader sense the movement aims to get the country back to an individualistic basis, and away from the collective system with the Government as the controlling power.

It is expected, as a matter of course, that the National Chamber of Commerce will be much interested in the various movements that will be necessary before the railroads, telegraph and telephone companies, express companies and other corporate properties now under Government control and operation can be returned to their owners, and there will likewise have to be some legislation in Congress.

The purpose of the Markham plan is to have the country thoroughly organized as quickly as possible, by all business organizations, including the labor bodies, so as to permit the taking of a referendum vote on any question that may call for an expression. If the movement is taken up by the national chamber, that body, through its many associate organizations, will be in position to get the sentiment of the country on any of the questions, affecting the return of the railroads and other quasi public utilities to private control and operation.

There is expected to be a propaganda for permanent Government operation of all the utilities taken over as war measures, and there is a feeling among those who do not favor such a policy that they should be prepared to meet the issue.

Beyond admitting that such a proposition had been placed before the Chamber of Commerce, Markham declined to discuss his suggestion.

LAWS TO BE ASKED FOR TO PROTECT CHILDREN

Missouri Commission Completes Recommendations It Will Present to Next Legislature.

Completion of the legislative program of the Missouri Children's Code Commission to protect the rights of children, to increase their educational advantages and to provide for the establishment of legal paternity of children born out of wedlock are commended in the report of the commission, which will be submitted to the Legislature in January.

The recommendations were included in the program at the Legislature two years ago, but at that time only the measures to which there was no organized opposition were adopted, including a State-wide mothers' pension act, a juvenile court act for the counties of the State, a new adoption law and a law providing for the treatment of incorrigible minors.

Chief Legislative Demands.

The principal legislative demands of the commission are:

A law prohibiting the employment of children under 14 at any occupation, except that they may be employed on farms when schools are not in session.

A law raising the age limit for boys in street trades to 12 and girls to 18, and requiring that they be licensed and wear badges.

Prohibiting the employment of any person under 21 in night messenger service.

Requiring physical examination and completion of the eighth grade in school before the issuance of employment certificates of children between 14 and 16.

Raising the compulsory school term throughout the State.

Requiring working children between 14 and 16 to attend classes not fewer than eight hours a week.

Establishment of paternity of children born out of wedlock by court proceedings, the Court to determine the proportion of support to be paid by father and mother, and giving such children the same right of inheritance from the natural father as from the mother.

Prohibiting the issuance of marriage licenses to persons who are feeble-minded or epileptic.

Abolition of the common law marriage.

Publication of notices of intention to marry.

A system of supervising and licensing maternity hospitals and private institutions caring for children.

Establishing special classes for feeble-minded, deaf, blind and crippled children.

Creation of a bureau for mental defects in the University of Missouri to serve the courts, schools and institutions in the examination of defective children.

1,481,085 Children Under 21.

The commission reports that in 1917 there were 1,481,085 children under 21 years of age in Missouri, and that there are few laws, particularly as applying to children in rural communities, which will protect them from being taken from school at an early age, and protecting them and the public in their rights as future citizens.

Regarding children in street trades, the report states:

"It is clear that children who spend more than four or five hours a day outside of school hours selling on the streets are under too great a strain to make the best use of their time at school.

"Of all forms of street trades engaged in by children, none is as harmful as night messenger service. It brings the child into personal contact with vice, it fails to train him for future work, teaching little of value and leaves him unfit for industrial life."

The recommendations will be transmitted by Gov. Gardner to the Legislature, with a request that they be given careful consideration.

THANKSGIVING WILL BE WIDELY OBSERVED HERE

Business to Be Suspended and Churches Will Hold Services —No Meeting at Armory.

Tomorrow, Thanksgiving day, will be generally observed in St. Louis as a holiday by the closing of public offices, schools, courts, banks, mercantile houses and markets and will be made a day of thanks for victory and peace, in morning religious and patriotic services at various churches. A number of the church gatherings will be community affairs, in which several congregations will unite.

Plans for a public patriotic celebration in the Armory at night were abandoned today at the instance of the health authorities, because of the increased number of influenza cases. It had been planned to have addresses by Mayor Kiel and three clergymen, representing the Catholic, Protestant and Hebrew churches.

A general holiday for postoffice employes has been declared, except that an afternoon and a night delivery of mail to hotels will be made. All city carrier service will be suspended. Afternoon and night collections of mail will be made.

At the New Cathedral a pontifical high mass will be celebrated at 9 a. m. A procession of the Archbishop, clergy and choir will precede the mass. The Archbishop will preach

Bishop Tuttle will preach at Christ Church Cathedral, the service beginning at 10 o'clock.

Several Methodist Episcopal churches will unite in a service at the Second Presbyterian Church, Taylor avenue and Westminster place, where Bishop Quayle will preach. The First Presbyterian Church also will take part.

Southern Methodists will meet at Centenary Church, Sixteenth and Pine streets, where the sermon will be preached by the Rev. Clarence Burton of Wagoner Place Church.

Episcopalians, Congregationalists and Methodists in Parkview and vicinity will hold joint services at the First Congregational Church, Ellenwood avenue and University Lane. The Rev. Herbert B. Rhodes of Grace Church will preach.

Four Jewish congregations—Shaare Emeth, B'Nai-El, United Hebrew and Temple Israel—will participate in a union service at United Hebrew Temple, King's highway and Enright avenue, at 10:30. In the evening, at the same temple, the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Independent Order of B'Nai Brith will be observed.

Fountain Park Congregational, King's Highway Presbyterian, Second Baptist and St. John's Methodist churches will unite in services at Fountain Park Church at 10:30.

The Gano Avenue and Bowman Methodist churches, Northminster and East Grand Avenue Presbyterian churches, Water Tower Baptist, Second and Fourth Christian churches and Hyde Park Congregational Church will hold a union service at 10:30 in the Hyde Park church, the Rev. Barclay Meador preaching.

BUSINESS MAN HAS WOMAN ARRESTED FOR ANNOYING HIM

A woman who said she was Mrs. V. Rector Griffith was arrested yesterday afternoon on complaint of Michael W. Brooks, head of a collection agency, in his office in the Equitable Building. He told policemen she had followed him and his wife from a restaurant and had disturbed the peace.

She at first said she lived at the Marquette Hotel, but later when giving an $800 common law bond she gave an address on Kensington avenue. The bond was signed by A. T. De Camp, a coal dealer. Brooks said she had been bothering him for some time and had written letters to him indicating that she thought she had some sort of claim on him. He denied the existence of any such claim.

POSTAL CLERK WHO RIFLED LETTERS ALLOWED TO GO FREE

Judge Dyer Accedes to Pleas of Employer and Two Others in Defendant's Behalf.

On pleas for leniency by Verne Lacey, an attorney, and Aldermen Udell and Richter, Judge Dyer in the United States District Court today permitted Wilbur F. Moore of 6728 Virginia avenue, a postal clerk who had rifled letters which he handled, to go free on the payment of a fine of $250.

Udell said Moore had offered $200 toward restitution of the money he had stolen from letters, and that he had been working and living properly. He said he employed Moore after Moore had told him the circumstances of his arrest and asked for employment.

Moore had been a postal clerk for 12 years and was assigned to handling letters which had been damaged in the mails. This, Udell said, was a temptation to him at a time when he was in financial difficulties and his child was ill.

50,000 LETTERS FROM SOLDIERS

About 50,000 letters from soldiers in France have been received at the St. Louis Postoffice in the last two days. Many contained Christmas parcel labels, which the soldiers sent to be attached to the parcels they are expecting from home.

About 15,000 Christmas parcels, examined by Red Cross inspectors, are now on their way overseas. Inspectors will be on duty at the Postoffice, Eighteenth and Walnut streets, tomorrow and Friday until 9 p. m. The last day on which parcels can be mailed under the labels is Saturday.

TWO MISSOURI U. FACULTY MEMBERS IN PEACE PARTY

Dr. R. J. Kerner to Go as Advisor on European Affairs; Prof. Hudson Already in Paris.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 27. — Two members of the faculty of the University of Missouri will take part in the Versailles peace conference, it is announced here. Dr. R. J. Kerner, associate professor of modern European history, has been appointed to a place on the United States peace staff, and will sail soon after Dec. 1. He goes as an advisor on the affairs of Central Europe.

Prof. Manley C. Hudson of the School of Law already is in Paris. He has been engaged in collecting data in connection with the peace preliminaries.

NEW YORK NAVY CLUB PLANS TO ENTERTAIN SAILORS CHRISTMAS

People Are Requested to Mail Gifts to New York for Men in All Parts of Country.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Christmas plans for entertaining navy men from all parts of the country were announced today by the Navy Club. Persons in every state are expected to forward, as they did last year, packages of gifts addressed to the Navy Club Christmas Tree, 509 Fifth avenue, New York, and with these packages the Navy Club will play Santa Claus all day of Dec. 25.

ITALIAN RELIEF NEEDS MONEY

Appeal for Funds Outlines Work That Is Being Done.

The Italian War Relief Fund of America is making a special appeal for support. It has already cabled funds for blinded soldiers, for the tubercular children of soldiers, for the families of the Piave heroes, for radio apparatus, for an ambulance for the American Hospital at Siena, for the families of the Venetion gondoliers and for books and clothing for school children, and has sent 42 bacteriological microscopes for the Italian Red Cross.

It needs money for these and other officially approved objects, and having a sustaining fund given by nine persons, it will forward funds given to it promptly and without deduction.

Checks, drawn to the order of the Italian War Relief Fund of America, New York Committee, should be sent to Treasurer S. Reading Bertron at the headquarters, 347 Madison avenue, New York City.

REPRESENTATIVES OF 45,000 TELEGRAPHERS VOTE TO STRIKE

Railway Employes Dissatisfied With Awards as to Wages and Working Conditions.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—A vote favoring a strike of railway telegraphers on all the roads in the United States and Canada was cast in Chicago yesterday by the general chairmen and secretaries of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, representing 51 divisions of the Western and Middle Western states. Similar meetings were held in Boston, Baltimore and Atlanta.

The Chicago meeting was representative of 45,000 Government employes who are dissatisfied with the supplements to general order No. 27 affecting wages and working conditions. It was voted to reject all these.

A revision of the wage awards is the first demand of the wiremen, who ask for a minimum of 60 cents an hour in place of the 48-cent minimum. Changes in the working conditions also are sought.

BAUER URGES UNION OF AUSTRIA AND GERMANY

Austrian Secretary of State Calls It Only Means of Self-Preservation.

By the Associated Press.

VIENNA, Thursday, Nov. 21.—Dr. Otto Bauer, Secretary of State of the German-Austrian Republic, said, concerning a union of the Austrian republics and the federation of German republics:

"It would appear to be our only means to preserve to us any political and commercial prosperity and to prevent our being encroached upon by the larger states near by.

"It must be admitted that the Germans are a wonderful business people, and also that they have coal and iron, and also an outlet to the sea, facilities which would become ours. Also their language and literature are the same as ours."

He added that the hostility of the Czechs and Hungarians toward the Austrians and the reports that efforts would be made by the Czechs to take part of German-speaking Austria, made a union of the German states necessary for self-preservation. He said there was another proposal to create new republics along the Danube.

It was evident to observe here, Dr. Bauer continued, that the peace conference must aid in settling the difficulties of the new republics and lead them toward prosperity.

He said that he and other members of the Government had been rather relieved to learn that there would be a mission sent by the allies to help in the adjustment of boundary disputes, with the chief object of preventing new wars.

As the Czechs have a strong army, he continued, they are feared both in Austria and Hungary, whose war material was mostly abandoned on the Italian front or seized during the retreat.

The Jugo-Slavs, however, were Hungarians, the Secretary of State concluded, and he felt that they would resist the efforts of the Czechs to take Presburg and other points claimed by them.

ROBBER SHOOTS JUNK DEALER

Negroes Lure Man Into Shed for Robbery.

Samuel Beckman, 54 years old, a junk dealer of 2214 Biddle street, was shot in the back at 3 p. m. yesterday by one of three negroes who had lured him into a shed at the rear of 4217 West Ashland avenue, under the pretext of having some old iron for sale.

In the shed the negroes attempted to rob Beckman, and when he fought with them one negro drew a revolver and fired into his back. He was taken to the city hospital. Doctors said the wound was serious. The negroes escaped.

NEW APPEAL IS MADE FOR MITIGATION OF ARMISTICE

Solf Requests Delay in Delivering Rolling Stock —Berlin Semi-Officially Says Repeal of Blockade Will Be Considered.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Dr. W. S. Solf, German Foreign Minister, has asked the allies once more for a mitigation of the armistice conditions and has requested permission to delay the delivery of railroad rolling stock, under the terms of the agreement between Germany and the allies, until Feb. 1, on the ground of difficulties caused by bad conditions and the lack of lubricating oils.

By the Associated Press.

COPENHAGEN, Tuesday, Nov. 27.—It is semi-officially announced in Berlin, according to a dispatch to the Berlingske Tidende, that the Entente Powers will probably consider the repeal of the blockade after consulting with President Wilson.

Solf's Description of Food Conditions in Germany.

Copyright, 1918, by Press Publishing Co. (New York World.)

LONDON, Nov. 27.—In an interview concerning German food conditions, Percy Brown in a dispatch to the Daily Graphic reports Dr. Solf as saying:

"Our reserves from the last harvest proved bitterly disappointing. We had hoped to hold out, by the exercise of the strictest economy, but this is no longer possible. If German-Austria must be supplied from our stock of grain we may say with certainty that the supply will not last more than four weeks.

"Our stock of fats, of the poorest quality, is also nearly exhausted. Our cattle stock is inadequate, owing to the needs of the army which we had to supply, and our fattening foods are reduced to such an extent that they are insufficient for the requirements of our children and invalids.

"The effect of these conditions on the general health of the people is shown in an appalling increase in the death rate. I cannot conceal from you my intense anxiety regarding developments which will be inevitable unless our adversaries relinquish their pitiless attitude in respect to food supplies.

"Bolshevistic anarchy in Germany would sound the doom of western Europe, of England, of the whole world. It is possible that your people do not grasp the real significance of impending conditions."

PAPER RESTRICTIONS OFF, EXCEPT AS TO DAILY PAPERS

Weekly Newspaper May Work on Old Basis Beginning Dec. 1, War Industries Board Announces.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Withdrawal of restrictions affecting the publication of periodicals, except daily, Sunday and weekly newspapers, effective immediately, was announced today by the War Industries Board.

Publishers of daily and Sunday newspapers, in recent conference with the board, requested that it continue control over the use of newsprint for the present.

Daily publishers are urged to send in November reports without delay. It is explained that regulations affecting their business may be withdrawn within 60 days, but that complete reports should be on file in the event this work is turned over to another department.

Restrictions governing weekly newspapers will be lifted Dec. 1, the board said, because the amount of paper consumed by these publications is not sufficient to affect materially the news-print situation.

Restrictions on the manufacture of wall paper also are withdrawn, effective at once.

(The Thirty-fifth Division, which is listed with the Third Army Corps, is composed of Missouri and Kansas National Guard regiments, including the 138th Infantry and 128th Artillery from St. Louis.

The Eighty-ninth Division, in the Fifth Army Corps, contains Missouri, Kansas and Colorado men who were trained at Camp Funston. Several thousand St. Louisans are in this division.)

Returning Divisions Will Be Found Greatly Changed.

News from France today that the Twenty-seventh and Thirtieth Divisions, which have been fighting with the British Fourth Army, have been withdrawn, with only approximately 12,500 officers and men in each, does not mean that these organizations have been reduced to less than half of their normal strength in the severe fighting on the British front before the signing of the armistice.

Army officers recalled today that only the infantry and machine gun units of these divisions went into action with the British forces, the artillery being used elsewhere. It also was regarded as more than probable that the infantry and machine gun units were reduced in number so as to make the division conform in size to the British division with which they were operating.

The British divisional units number about 12,500 men. The Twenty-seventh Division is the New York National Guard division, commanded by Major-General John F. O'Ryan, the only National Guard officer to have served through the war with that high rank. The Thirtieth Division was composed of the Tennessee, North Carolina and South Carolina National Guard, and was known as the "Wildcat" Division.

Saw Heavy Action.

Both organizations saw heavy action and were highly commended by British officers for their desperate fighting when Marshal Haig's armies were smashing the Hindenburg line in Northern France early in the fall and in later engagements. Their losses undoubtedly have been heavy, but it is not regarded as probable that half their original strength figured in the casualty lists.

So far as is known here, no date for the return of these or any other divisions from France has been fixed.

Secretary Baker said today that none of the divisional organizations would arrive home before Christmas, as the transport facilities will be used in moving casuals and sick and wounded.

PERU SAID TO HAVE APOLOGIZED TO CHILE

Action, Announced by Chilean Consul at New York, Will, it Is Stated, Avert War.

By the Associated Press.

BUENOS AIRES, Tuesday, Nov. 26.—The Peruvian Foreign Office, according to reports received here, on Monday formally protested against anti-Peruvian riots in Chile and attack on Peruvian Consuls.

In reply, he Chilean Foreign Office declared that the Peruvian complaint was unjustifiable and was based on false information.

Carlos Castro Ruiz, Chilean Consul-General in New York, announced Tuesday that the difficulty between Peru and Chile had been settled by an apology on the part of the Peruvian Government. Ruiz said this information had come from the Chilean Foreign Office.

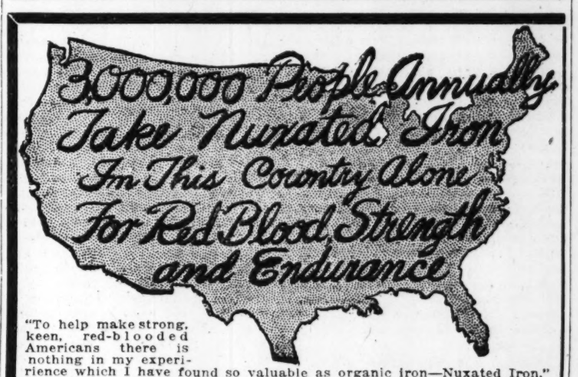

The difficulties between Chile and Peru date back to 1879 when a war began between Chile on one side and Peru and Bolivia on the other, which ended with Chile victorious in 1883, she having in the meantime occupied Lima, capital of Peru. One clause of the peace treaty between Chile and Peru was that Chile was to occupy the two Peruvian provinces of Tacna and Arica for a period of 10 years, at the end of which time their sovereignty was to be decided by popular vote—as to whether they should belong to Chile or Peru. This promise Chile has never carried out, for one reason or another, and as a consequence there has been brought about what has come to be known as the "Alsace-Lorraine question of South America." It has been the source of many disputes and is generally recognized as the most prolific source of internal trouble in South America.

EXTRA FARE FOR RIDING IN PULLMANS TO BE OFF DEC. 1

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Elimination of the ½-cent a mile extra fare for Pullman transportation, effective Dec. 1, has been decided on by Director-General McAdoo.

The order to be issued soon will remove other differentials imposed by the passenger rate last June on tourist sleepers and other special accommodations. It will not affect any of the charges imposed by the Pullman company.

This will mean a loss to the railroads of between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000, it is estimated. No radical changes will be made now in passenger train schedules or service, it was said today at the railroad administration. A few extra trains will be added to accommodate mid-winter tourist traffic to California and Florida.

"To help make strong, keen, red-blooded Americans there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. Nuxated Iron often increases the strength and endurance of the weak, nervous, rundown people in two weeks' time. It is conservatively estimated that Nuxated Iron is now being used by over three million people annually, and it has been used and endorsed by such men as Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, former Secretary of the Treasury and ex-Governor of Iowa; former United States Senator and Vice-Presidential Nominee Chas. A. Towne; General John L. Clem (Retired), the drummer boy of Shiloh, who was Sergeant in the U. S. Army when only 12 years of age; also United States Judge G. W. Atkinson of the Court of Claims of Washington and others. Nuxated Iron is dispensed by all good druggists everywhere—ADV.

TWO WEDDINGS ON FOR THIS EVENING

Miss Glaser to Marry Morton Moss; Miss Kleinschmidt to Wed Lieut. E. G. Sprick.

AROUND Thanksgiving has always been a popular time for weddings and a number are scheduled to take place. Among them one of especial interest to Columbian Club circles, is that of Miss Aimee B. Glaser, daughter of Mrs. Morris Glaser, to Morton Moss, son of Mrs. Ella Moss of the Buckingham Hotel, which will take place this evening at 6:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother with Dr. Leon Harrison officiating. None but relatives and a few intimate friends of the family have been asked and the ceremony will be followed by a bridal dinner.

Little Eleanor Schwartz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Schwartz, and a niece of the bride, will be the flower girl and the bride's only attendant. Victor Moss will serve his brother as best man.

The couple will spend their honeymoon in the East and will return just before the Christmas holidays and will make their home for the present with the bride's mother.

Another wedding of today is that of Miss Gladys Caroline Kleinschmidt to Lieut. Edward George Sprick which will be celebrated this evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Kleinschmidt of 7125 Washington boulevard, University City, with the Rev. J. C. Handy of the University M. E. Church officiating.

The bride will have three matrons of honor who are Mrs. Jack Claiborne Knight, Walter St. Cyr and Lester George Kleinschmidt.

Mrs. Knight and Mrs. St. Cyr will wear gowns of pink georgette and satin and Mrs. Kleinschmidt a bride of the past year will wear her wedding gown of white satin. All will carry arm bouquets of La France roses. Little Gladys Scott will be the flower girl and will wear a frock of pink organdie and carry a basket of pink roses. Buddie Scott will be the ring bearer and James Elam Scott will serve as best man.

The bride will wear a gown of ivory-toned satin with an overdrape of rose brocaded charmeuse. The bodice is of rose point and chantilly lace and is finished with seed pearls. Her veil which will fall from a cap will be caught to it with orange blossoms. It forms the train and is finished at the bottom with a wide band of the satin. Her bouquet will be of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Following the ceremony there will be a reception after which Lieut. Sprick and his bride will depart for New Orleans where they will visit en route to Camp Logan Houston, Tex., where he is stationed.

Social Items

The Dolly sisters have accepted an invitation to tea at the Allies Shop, Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Throughout the war the twins have been ardent workers for all war causes and when at Palm Beach last season instead of indulging in the customary sports, devoted all their time off stage to war activities.

Mrs. George Marion Brown, Mrs. Hal Brady and Mrs. D. R. Calhoun, who have charge of the tea room and entertainment, will be assisted by Misses Ida Mellier, Elizabeth Holliday, Caroline Fowler, Georgia Anderson, Rose Muckermann, Mary Alice Tutt, Lucile Woods, Frances Woods, Lucy Weisiger, Ann Hunt, Marie Gross, Catherine Corlis, Margaret Maxwell, Marjorie Cornet, Louise Francis, Mrs. Gynne Evans and Mrs. Edward Laidley, who will serve at waitresses.

Mrs. W. C. Henning, 6330 Waterman avenue, hase gone to Mount Clemens, Mich., where she is a guest of the Colonial for a fortnight.

Mrs. Charles W. Whitelaw of 42 Portland place, who has been East for the past month, is expected home the first part of next week.

Mrs. P. Chouteau Scott of 33 Vandeventer place, accompanied by her young daughter, Marie Louise Scott, departed today for New York, where they will visit Mrs. Scott's sisters, Mrs. J. Astley Griffin and Mrs. John K. Erskine Jr., who reside there at the Ansonia Hotel.

The Alliance Francaise has sent out invitations to a meeting which will take place Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the Buckingham Hotel. Lieut. Julio L. Arturio of the Italian army will be the speaker and will take for his subject, "Italy, Her Part in the War."

The Entertainment Committee of the Liederkranz Club announces the presentation of "The Spider and the Web," a drama in three acts to be given in the auditorium of the club, Saturday evening at 8:15 o'clock. This drama was written by Urban L. Dames in honor of the 82 members of the club who have entered the service of the army and navy during the war. Nonmembers are invited to attend this performance. The proceeds are to go to the Belgian Babies' Relief Fund. Dancing will follow the performance.

Those in the cast are: Mrs. Henry Heil Jr., Miss Mathilde Kallmeyer, Miss Amelia Menzenwerth, Miss Louise Barthel, Messrs. Edward C. Koch, Harold K. Hammerstein, Henry Heil Jr., Arthur A. Fattmann and Urban L. Dames.

CHURCHILL DECLARES BRITISH WILL RETAIN SEA SUPREMACY

Favors League of Nations, but Says It Cannot Be Substitute for England's Fleet Power.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Speaking at Dundee last night, Winston Spencer Churchill, Minister of Munitions, said that, while he would do everything in his power to make a league of nations a practical and powerful reality, it would be no substitute for the supremacy of the British fleet.

In reference to the freedom of the seas, he said:

"From the battle of Trafalgar to the end of the nineteenth century we were absolutely free at sea. We were the only nation whose ports were open to the world, whose markets were unrestricted by any tariff and whose coastwise trade was not held as a national monopoly. Even our kith and kin from the United States, whose affection and aid have been so dear to us, never practiced that broad, liberal policy which we, for a century of unchallenged supremacy, have shown upon the sea.

"Let us be careful not to catch the infection of German ideas at the moment we have defeated the German army. If other nations of the world are content to allow us to keep the supremacy of the seas without demur it will be because we hold it as a trust for all."

U. S. NAVY CLAIMS TO HAVE SUNK OR CAPTURED 10 U-BOATS

British Admiralty Officially Credits Americans With Nine German Submarines.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—American naval headquarters announces that it has credited American warships with sinking or capturing 10 German submarines. The British Admiralty gives the Americans credit for nine, owing to the fact that one case is not absolutely certain. Destroyers accounted for two U-boats, yachts for three, submarines for one and the submarine chasers for four. Forty-six vessels were engaged in fights in which it is known that submarines were present.

The present navy places the total number of fights in which it was reasonable to suppose that a submarine was lurking near at 500.

Stomach Dead Man Still Lives

People who suffer from sour stomach, fermentation of food, distress after eating and indigestion, and seek relief in large chunks of artificial digestors, are killing their stomachs by inaction just as surely as the victim of morphine is deadening and injuring beyond repair every nerve in his body.

What the stomach of every sufferer from indigestion needs is a good prescription that will build up his stomach, put strength, energy and elasticity into it and make it sturdy enough to digest a hearty meal without artificial aid.

The best prescription for indigestion ever written is sold by druggists everywhere and by Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., and is rigidly guaranteed to build up the stomach and cure indigestion, or money back.

ART LEAGUE ANNOUNCES AWARDS FOR PLAYLETS

First Honors Go to Emily Westwood Lewis for "The Canary."

Prizes in the 1918 annual dramatic competition of the Art League, which this year was restricted to one-act playlets, were announced last night at the annual meeting of the league, as follows:

First, Emily Westwood Lewis, "The Canary;" second, Mrs. John P. Boogher, "Security;" third, Cyrus William Beach, "Jungle Fire." Special honorable mention of plays by Clarence Stratton, Ellen Lee Hoffman, Lelia C. Hattersly and Leona V. Shepard. The awards carry neither cash prizes nor medals this year because of war conditions.

Awards of the jury in the annual thumb-box competition were as follows: First, for paintings, Gustav F. Goetsch; second, Mrs. Mildred Bailey Carpenter; honorable mention, Mrs. K. E. Cherry; first in sculpture, Caroline Risque.

George S. Johns and Dr. B. M. Duggar presented the subject of a commemorative memorial of St. Louis' spirit and sacrifice in the war. A special committee is being organized to carry out the plan recommended by the Executive Committee for co-operation of all artistic and civic bodies to insure a high artistic standard and at the same time a utilitarian result. A tribute was paid by Acting President Johns to the wisdom of Mayor Kiel in projecting a memorial which would center the art activities of the city in a splendid and worthy public edifice. A motion was passed commending the Mayor's plan.

Plans for a national exposition of industrial design and decoration to be held in St. Louis were begun. An art industry exposition in St. Louis next spring will be a preliminary to the national event, the purpose of which is to foster art in industry, thus affording an opening for returning soldiers to develop skill.

SHRINERS TO RECEIVE JACOBY

Elaborate Program Arranged for Visit of Imperial Potentate.

St. Louis Shriners are making special arrangements for the reception of Elias J. Jacoby of Indianapolis, imperial potentate of North America, who will be a guest of the Shriners of Moolah Temple Friday and assist in the initiating of a large class of candidates at Moolah Temple Saturday.

The ceremonies will commence with a parade at 2 o'clock from the Statler Hotel to Moolah Temple. An entertainment and business session and banquet will follow. The ceremonies for the imperial potentate will start at 7:30 o'clock.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Luster at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—ADV.

MABEL GARRISON STAR OF APOLLO CLUB EVENT

Metropolitan Soprano's Charming Art Pleases Both Laymen and Connoisseurs.

BY RICHARD L. STOKES.

IF the Apollo Club in its own work were not the organization of ideals and valuable accomplishment that it is, its existence would be almost justified by the admirable policy of bringing to the city artists of a high class whom St. Louis would otherwise have no opportunity to hear. Another case in point is the presentation of Miss Mabel Garrison, soprano, of the Metropolitan Opera Company, as soloist of the program with which the club, at the Odeon last night, opened its twenty-fifth season.

As this was Miss Garrison's first appearance here a brief analysis of her singing may not be out of place. She is an American artist, by birth and exclusive training. In quality her voice is silvery and bright rather than warm. It is a commonplace of compliment to describe a vocal organ as flute-like, but the adjective is nearly always very loosely used. Of certain high notes in Miss Garrison's voice it may be said literally that if the eyes were closed one could not tell whether the silken tones were uttered by the human throat or by the flute.

Her colorature is expert, and is executed apparently with effortless ease, whatever the difficulty. Her range ascends to high F, and, as should be the case with coloratura singers, the higher her voice goes the more beautiful it becomes. Her scales seem smooth and flexible, but occasionally a note of pewter intrudes among the silver. There seemed, though not very frequently, a tendency to stray from the pitch. Her staccato notes are scarcely so ethereal and fairy-like as with some singers, but are inferior in lightness only to the very best. Her diction is delightfully clear.

The outstanding quality of her art, to at least one hearer, is the intelligence of her musicianship. Her attitude, indeed, seems more cerebral than emotional. Her finest demonstration, more than one believed, was in a group of modern French songs, with their rapid shiftings among remote tonalities, their use of bizarre intervals, their subtlety and elusiveness of beauty.

At Her Best in French Songs.

Yet, so thoroughly had the singer's mentality penetrated the innermost meaning of these songs, with such rare fineness did the modulations of her voice follow every delicate nuance of both poetry and music—like a pianist exquisitely varying his touch—that they became as lucid, consecutive and lovely as a simple lied by Schubert.

Her numbers were the aria, "Ah, fors e lui," from "La Traviata;" the four songs in French just mentioned, and an English group. Not only her singing, but her charming bearing towards her audience made so favorable an impression that she was called upon for several encores. She gave the "Doll's Song" from "Tales of Hoffman," the brilliant "Voce di Primavera," by Strauss, and "Dixie."

Her husband, George Siemonn, served at the piano as accompanist, and it was refreshing to see one so familiar with the music that he could play from memory, and thus give his undivided attention to following the singer. He also contributed one number to the program, as composer of a delicious little sing, "Baby."

The spirit and zeal with which Director Galloway's male chorus always performs need no further elaboration here. It is true—owing to lack of rehearsals on account of the influenza ban, and to the injection of several new members—that the chorus committed some almost unprecedented technical faults, such as uncertainty of attack in a few places, and that the first tenors tend to strain when they get above the staff. But for euphony, discipline, skillful shading of dynamics and ardor of zest in its work, the chorus remains one of the best of the kind in the country. The attendance, though a bit reduced, was still enough to show that the Apollo Club has the largest and most faithful following of any musical organization in the city.

CHANGE IN "POP" PROGRAM

Community Singing to Be Left Out Next Sunday.

Community singing will not be a part of next Sunday's Symphony Orchestra popular concert at the Odeon. Arthur J. Gaines, business manager of the orchestra, today said this decision did not mean the elimination of the singing feature, but that it had been decided to vary the concerts by having the next one purely instrumental, except that the audience at the close of the program will be asked to sing the "Star-Spangled Banner."

Gaines said the community singing might be a part of future concerts from time to time, though its inclusion in the first two was largely experimental. Director Zach said some objection had been raised, on the ground that the community singing unduly lengthens the program, especially when a soloist appears with the orchestra.

Fire Destroys $550 Liberty Bonds.

Evan Mekvji, a Servian miner of New Baden, Ill., lost $550 in Liberty Bonds, the savings of four years, yesterday in a fire which destroyed a trunk in which he had placed the bonds for safekeeping. A War Savings Certificate with stamps to the value of $100 was charred. Mekvji came to St. Louis today to report his loss to the Liberty Loan headquarters.

Save in Peace as You Have Saved in War

The lesson of thrift has been one of the great lessons of the war. You have bought Liberty Bonds and War Savings Certificates far beyond what you thought you could buy. Perhaps you have been surprised how easy it really has been to save.

And now that the war is over and we can look forward to the country soon being on a peace basis, let's not forget the lesson of thrift. Let's save regularly. Put something into your savings account every pay day.

Attending to Chickens and Garden

"My neighbors are surprised to see me looking so well, for they thought I would not live to see Summer. I had such pain around my heart as to cause me to faint. I knew it came from bloating and pressure of gas in my stomach. A friend in St. Louis told me to use Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and I now feel better than in all my life. I am doing my own work, attending to my chickens and my garden and have cleaned house." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. WHY ACCEPT GRAY HAIR?

It Is Unnecessary

Most women would laugh at the person who suggested having the teeth pulled out because time had impaired their usefulness; or not caring for the skin because maturity and wrinkles usually go together.

Yet many middle-aged women sorrowfully accept gray hair as inevitable, when proper care will hold its dark, youthful color indefinitely.

Q-ban Hair Color Restorer is a delightful toilet preparation for restoring gray, streaked with gray or faded hair to its youthful color and luster. It is not a dye. It simply brings back gradually and naturally the original color and beauty of the hair. Does not stain the scalp or rub off. Does not interfere with shampooing or waving. Eradicates dandruff. Easily applied.

The makers of Q-ban have been known for a generation as specialists in the treatment of the hair. Sold by all reliable druggists everywhere on Money-Back Guarantee. Price, 75c.—ADV.

For Dr. Bengué of Paris—

WE are glad to announce, on behalf of this famous French physician, that you can still obtain at most drug stores, in spite of war conditions.

You, of course, know how highly doctors here and abroad endorse this original French Baume.

It quickly relieves the pain of rheumatism, neuralgia, gout and sciatica, and is good for colds and catarrhal affections of the nose and throat.

Many have found, who for one reason or other have purchased a substitute, that the original Baume Analgésique Bengué is as hard to imitate as its name is difficult to pronounce.

TRY MAKING YOUR OWN COUGH REMEDY

You Can Save About $2, and Have a Better Remedy Than the Ready-Made Kind. Easily Done.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Think of the finest toned phonograph you ever heard, the loveliest record—then think of it played infinitely better.

Such is no longer an ideal—but an accomplished creation—an actual, buyable improvement.

Once you hear the new Brunswick Phonograph you'll voluntarily discard old conceptions, old standards. Each record gains new significance!

Such a bettered instrument was inevitable. Some instrument was certain to offer the advantages now presented in The Brunswick Method of Reproduction.

The Brunswick Method of Reproduction includes the playing of all records, whatever make. This is accomplished by the Ultona, an entirely new and exclusive reproducer. It is instantly adjustable, presenting to each type of record the exact needle, diaphragm and weight.

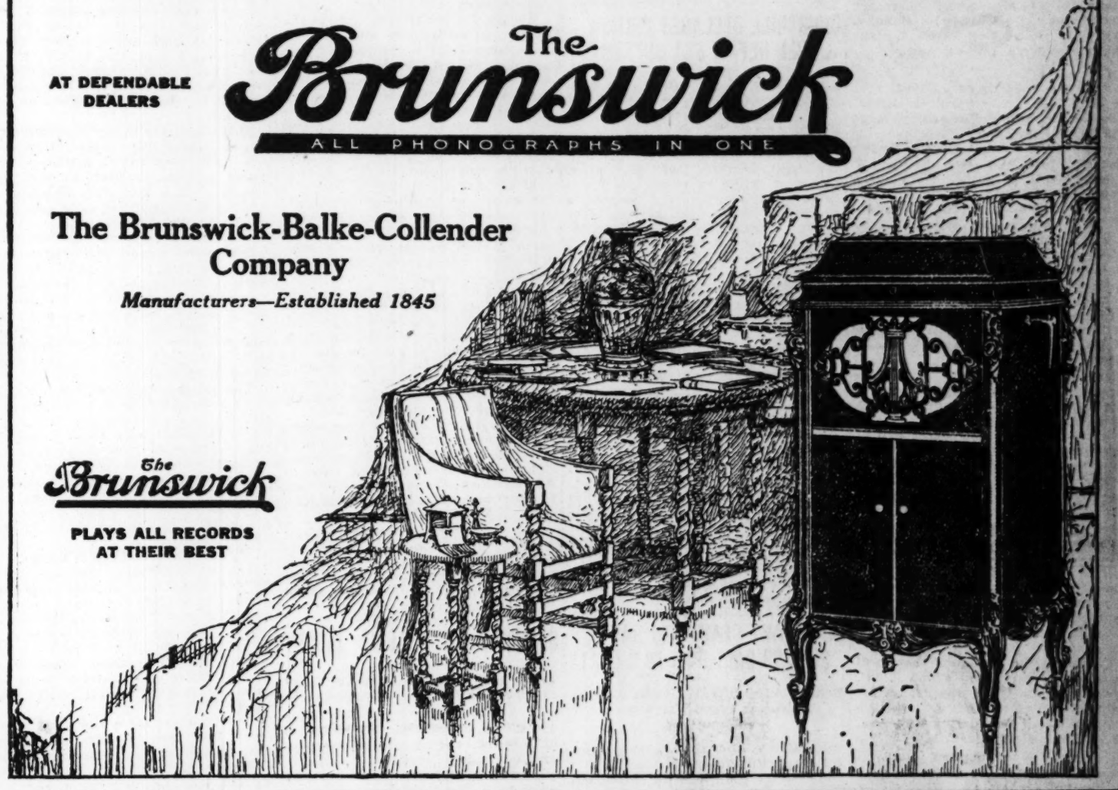

Another feature is the all-wood Tone Amplifier, built like a violin. The sound waves have an opportunity to expand and contract in a natural way. Thus metallic and harsh notes are ended.

Both of these improved features can be had in The Brunswick only. And both are integral parts of the instrument—not attachments in any sense.

Man's Most Malignant Enemy

In dark, sunless corners, in the elbows and recesses of sinks, drains and toilets, in cuspidors, in the sick-room and wherever flies gather or breed—in these places lurks man's most dangerous enemy, the disease germ.

Nature gives you resistance to attack, but does not give you immunity. A poor night's sleep, a period of fatigue, the strain of overwork, and a break is made in your defenses against disease.

Lysol Disinfectant

reduces the danger of disease by making the danger spots in your home germ-proof. No germ can live in contact with Lysol.

Lysol is economical. Mixed with water a 50c bottle makes 5 gallons of powerful disinfectant; a 25c bottle makes 2 gallons. Lysol is invaluable for personal hygiene.

Lysol Toilet Soap Contains Lysol, and therefore protects the skin from germ infection. It is refreshingly soothing and healing and helpful for improving the skin. Ask your dealer. If he hasn't got it, ask him to order it for you.

Lysol Shaving Cream Contains Lysol, and kills germs on razor and shaving-brush (where germs abound), guards the tiny cuts from infection, and gives the antiseptic shave. If your dealer hasn't got it, ask him to order a supply for you.

SULTAN OPPOSED WAR, SAYS HEIR TO THRONE

German - Controlled Minister Caused Atrocities, Declares Abdul Medjid Effendi.

By the Associated Press.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sunday, Nov. 24.—"This last war was the most disastrous in the history of Turkey, not because she was beaten, but because in made enemies of nations naturally our friends," declared Abdul Medjid Effendi, heir to the Ottoman throne, to the correspondent of the Associated Press, whom he received today.

"The present Sultan and myself," he continued, "denounced the proposal that Turkey enter the war. Mohammed V, who was then reigning, showed weakness before a clique of adventurers like Talaat Bey and Enver Bey, then Cabinet Ministers and now fugitives, whom Germany had fed with dreams of power.

"I am more ashamed of the Armenian atrocities committed during the war than of anything in our history, but I must insist that they were against the will of the present Sultan and the nation as a whole. They were instigated by unpatriotic Ministers who were guaranteed in their places by their services to German militarism.

"Foreign Assistance Needed."

"The fanaticism of remote tribes in their dislike for their neighbors and the brutality of provincial officers served as the mediums, while the censored press here concealed the facts from the general public. The members of the imperial family tried to make use of their prestige against this, but were imprisoned in the palace.

"Of the future I can say we must have foreign assistance, as the country is exhausted. We prefer to deal with one nation, because the difficulties of international control have been shown elsewhere, but we welcome any control not menacing the sovereignty of the Caliph."

Dr. Riza Tewfik, the Minister of Public Instruction, who was received at the same time as the correspondent, complained of the provincial officials appointed by the former ministers and still retained because of the lack of other trained men. He declared that they were delaying, for profit to themselves, the shipment of coal from the Turkish mines on the Black Sea coast to Constantinople, where a fuel shortage is threatened.

"Secure proofs," said the heir to the throne, "and I myself will guarantee the support of the Sultan and the punishment of the miscreants Strike hard and quickly. Such criminals may ruin the country in a critical moment."

Suggests American Schooling for Jewish and Armenian States.

By the Associated Press.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Saturday, Nov. 23.—The proposed independent states for the Armenian and Jewish populations in Turkey should have a period of tutelage under another nation, preferably the United States, Dr. Caleb F. Gates, president of Robert College in Constantinople, declared to the correspondent today. Gates has been a resident of Turkey for 38 years. Several Cabinet Ministers and other leaders of the progressive element in Turkey and Bulgaria have been educated at Robert College.

"The Armenian and Jewish populations of Turkey for whom independent states are proposed," he said, "cannot govern themselves without a period of tutelage. A single nation should control. Equal laws for all residents and nationalities, Turk and non-Turk, should not only be made by this nation, but should be administered by whatever means necessary.

"The Turks are a proud race and would resent such control, but it is inevitable. For myself, I prefer America.

"I don't know that the United States even would consider the task, taking into account the distance from home and the conflicting interests, but, whatever nation is chosen, two principles should be followed: The Government should be for the natives and not to enrich another people across the sea; second, the Government should be by the people, because everywhere it is evident that no people will consent long to be governed.

"If the Americans have any voice in the world's peace I hope they will strive to enforce these principles in Turkey.

"Regarding the Turks, many say, with Mr. Asquith (former Premier of Great Britain), that the Turks are ended in Europe. They must mean the Turkish Government, but I suppose nobody has advocated driving the Constantinople Turks from their homes.

"That a substitute for the present Government would solve the problem is a question. Even if an international Government could succeed anywhere, it is surely doubtful if it could succeed in Constantinople, where racial and commercial rivalry always have been supreme."

GIRLS! ACT NOW! HAIR COMING OUT SIGN OF DANDRUFF

A small bottle of "Danderine" keeps hair thick, strong, beautiful.

Girls! Try this! Doubles beauty of your hair in a few moments.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable luster, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine for a few cents at any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—ADV.

JUDGE HOGAN REFUSES TO FINE WOMAN WHO POSED AS A MAN

"Certainly It Is Not Unbecoming," He Says, When Bertha Schmidt Appears in Man's Clothing.

Judge Hogan in police court today refused to fine Bertha Schmidt, 25 years old, 3624 Keokuk street, who has admitted that she has masqueraded as a man, under an ordinance forbidding a woman to appear in public in costume unbecoming to her sex.

The Judge gave scrutiny to Miss Schmidt's clothing with apparent admiration. After she had doffed her man's overcoat, he said:

"Certainly it is not unbecoming."

Miss Schmidt appeared in court attired in a man's blue serge suit with tan shoes, green necktie, corded silk collar and a gray overcoat with a belt. Her hair apparently had been freshly cut 'feather edge" and closely cropped about the ears.

She explained as her reason for wearing men's clothes that they were cheaper. "It costs as much as $100 for a woman to outfit herself," said she. "I have worked for as low as $4.50 a week and men's clothes are cheaper. I now am making $80 a month in a man's job, and the reason is I am appearing as a man and working as a man."

HOOVER IN PARIS; TAKES UP FOOD REPARTITION QUESTION

Supplies First for Allies, Then for Neutrals, Then for Enemies, Is Plan Under Consideration.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—Herbert C. Hoover, American Food Administrator, is here and is taking up with the allies the repartition of disposable foodstuffs. The plan under consideration would give food first to the allies, then to neutrals and then to enemies. Hoover desires that a commission meet at Brussels to examine the merits of German requests for food and to decide upon means for meeting them.

MAN AND GIRL ARE OVERCOME

Found in Hotel Unconscious From Gas, But Are Recovering.

Nora Tarlton, 22 years old, an elevator operator in the Mermod-Jaccard Building, and William Elkins Shea, 35, of 615 Soulard street, a private detective, who were found unconscious from gas in a room at the Smee Hotel, 3942 Olive street, at 5 p. m. yesterday, were reported recovering rapidly at the city hospital today. Both declared the affair was an accident.

They registered at the hotel at 2 a. m. yesterday as "Mr. and Mrs. George S. Gibson, Alton, Ill." A maid, smelling gas, traced it to their room and found one of the burners of a heater in the room turned on. The maid previously had visited the room at noon and finding a pot of water on the heater boiling had turned off the gas.

First Aid in Influenza Prevention

At the first sign of a cold see that the bowels are open. Colds cannot gain a start if the system is free from food-waste.

When the bowels are inactive and food-waste lies in the system it ferments, creating dangerous poisons which are absorbed into the blood. Then the kidneys, lungs and skin pores are not equal to the task of getting this poison out of the system and disease gets a quick start.

Colds Precede Influenza

The colds that follow blood sluggishness, due to the poisons created by constipation, leave the body an easy prey to influenza and after that—PNEUMONIA!

Ask any doctor what precaution you should take against colds, influenza and pneumonia and he will tell you to take a thoro laxative. But pills, tablets and vegetable compounds are only partly effective.

Your druggist has a product called SALINOS that is a thoro laxative which will completely empty the entire digestive tract, including the lower bowels, where most poisons are formed.

SALINOS is really pleasant to take, pleasant in taste and pleasant in action.

You can get a bottle of SALINOS for a quarter (larger sizes, Fifty cents and a Dollar).

Is used by entire families because it is purely vegetable, does the work and costs very little.

Why pay high prices for Liver and Bowel remedies when none are better than Dr. Carter's K. and B. Tea, which is purely vegetable, can be brewed at home, and a small package will last a long time?

Thousands of old people will tell you they have been drinking it for years, and after the liver and bowels have been put in fine condition in a few days by a before bedtime cup, that only an occasional cup is afterwards necessary to keep one feeling fit and fine.

People who drink a cup of Dr. Carter's K. and B. Tea once in a while, seldom, if ever, have any bilious attacks, sick headache or sallow skin. It's good for boys and girls, especially those who are peevish and fretful. Druggists have been selling it for many years.—ADV.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

As we have no information bureau, it is impossible to answer queries by mail or telephone

BEAUTY CULTURE.

WORRIED.—To make sage tea use iron pot and make strong tea of garden sage by boiling slowly 5 or 6 hours. Strain through cheesecloth, bottle and cork tightly. Do not make more than quart at one time; will keep about 10 days. Brush tea well into hair once daily. Once a week saturate all hair with it and dry thoroughly. This will gradually darken gray hair. Massage scalp a few minutes after using.

MRS. A.—Henna tea makes hair dark red or auburn. If ounce of leaves is steeped in pint boiling water, allowed to cool, drained and head wet all over, any auburn tinge preferred can be obtained. Strengthen tea for dark shades and weaken for light. Try a lock first. Hair should be thoroughly washed, rinsed and dried before tea is applied. This preparation is said to be harmless, the color lasts only a few weeks and care should be taken to "touch" new hair near the roots while renewing older growth. Strands should be wet entire length. Drying in sun darkens hair. * * * (Blotches may be red spots from defective circulation or brown from torpidity of the liver, or yellow from exposure to the sun. If the first, the circulation should be improved. When caused by inactive liver, the first thing is to relieve the system of its surplus of bile. When from exposure to the sun, outward applications may prove entirely effective. Try slices of raw cucumbers; bind on and leave all night. In the morning wash off in cold water and apply a little cold cream.)

HEALTH HINTS.

LENOX.—Hemorrhoids are only certainly removed by surgery.

H. E. JR.—Phenol is a mineral poison and it is not used for embalming, because it is not as good as arsenic or formaldehyde for that purpose.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

READER.—A housekeeper says: I made my plum puddings early last year, then dipped them in paraffine. They kept moist, and the flavor was retained. When I find extra-good cheese, I buy several pounds, cut it into small sized pieces and dip into the paraffine and put away. It will keep for months.

MRS. J. A.—To render lard so that it will be at its best, cut fat into small pieces, and put into kettle with enough water to cover bottom. Boil gently until meat settles or water has evaporated, stirring occasionally to prevent burning. Its quality and appearance is improved by slowly sprinkling into it one tablespoon bicarbonate of soda (baking soda) to each five gallons lard, just before removed from fire. After adding soda, kettle must be removed at once from fire, watched closely, and stirred constantly, as it is likely to foam over and catch fire. This is the "leaf" lard. That from the intestines is to be thrown into lukewarm water with all flabby pieces to be rendered, and so kept 24 hours before trying out. This, together with holding where it will freeze, until spring, deprives it of any strong taste it may have.

LAW POINTS.

MOTHER OF FOUR.—Every husband is required to support his wife and children. Talk with Prosecuting Attorney, Municipal Courts Bldg.

COPELAND.—There should be good reason for the issuing of a burglary warrant by a Prosecuting Attorney. All possible evidence should be at hand.

MRS. W.—Your dentist case would have to be decided in court. If he said not more than $25, he might be held to his promise, but we do not know this. Defend if you are sued.

WAR TALK.

HAPPY.—Phone American Red Cross, Frisco Bldg.

TEX.—Watch news columns in regard to National Guard service to be required.

R. A.—See Red Cross, Frisco Bldg., about allotments.

G. W. P.—We haven't the list of female spies executed. Watch news columns.

ANXIOUS WIFE.—See Postoffice and Red Cross about packages for Canadian soldiers.

WALLACE.—See or phone Red Cross or postoffice about all Christmas packages for soldiers.

M. A. C.—There have been many foreign mail delays. Heavy mails are now on the way home.

THANKS.—Last spring Gen. von Kluck was reported in Holland recovering as a wounded man.

MRS. J. M. P.—If wife subscribed for the war bond she will get it. Some delays are unavoidable.

E. U.—Communicate with the Treasury Department, in regard to the bonds your wife placed in a stove.

THANK YOU.—Watch news columns for reports as to homecoming soldiers. No more will be kept than seems necessary.

S. C. M. S.—Engaged to a soldier, you may make a hope chest, and may use your initials. Hope chest is a receptacle for all that the bride stores in anticipation of the wedding.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WM. SEIBERT.—No premium.

CONSTANT READER.—No premium.

EVERYDAY BUYER.—See card fortune at this office.

ANXIOUS.—Norma Talmadge, 318 W. 48th st., New York.

J. A. F.—Watch news columns for wireless telegraphy information.

REALTY.—You might try the City Assessor for information as to owner of property.

A. B. C.—Fisher may call the Crown Prince a quince because he knows he is not a peach.

X. Y. Z.—Electricity, by expert, might remove hair from the head so that there would be no more growth.

MRS. M. H.—We do not advise as to investments, except to say "investigate thoroughly."

IGNORANT.—Members of Eastern Star are not supposed to talk about and criticise everyone they see or know. No refined people do.

FARMER.—Wm. J. Bryan, Lincoln, Neb.; Senator Sheppard of Texas, Texarkana, Tex. * * * To soften hardened paint brush: Boil in vinegar.

R. M.—Iron cement for railing tops, iron gratings to stoves, etc.: Take equal parts sulphur and white lead with about 1-6 of borax; incorporate the 3 so as to form 1 homogeneous mass. When going to apply it, wet it with strong sulphuric acid and place a thin layor of it between the 2 pieces of iron, which should then be pressed together. In 5 days it will be perfectly dry, all traces of the cement having vanished, and the iron will have the appearance of having been welded together.

FORWARD ST. LOUIS.—It is proposed to make Twelfth st. a broad, beautiful, uniform avenue in accordance with the plans perfected by the City Plan Commission. Mayor Kiel said he would sign the proposed ordinance for the widening from Market to Spruce sts. The ordinance will be the first step toward the completion of a thoroughfare from the business section to the southwestern city limits. The Board of Public Improvements will start on their plans for the highway and condemn property on both sides of the street. Condemnation proceedings will begin next spring, and sections of the old Four Courts Building, Twelfth st. and Clark av.; Police Headquarters, 208 S 12th st., will be included in the condemned property.

Building Ban Off

The government has made official announcement that the building ban has been entirely removed and now construction work of all kinds is to be encouraged to the limit. This means a tremendous building boom for St. Louis. It also means a tremendous boom for

HI-POINTE

Contractors and builders have been patiently waiting for this ban to be lifted. Plans and specifications are now being rushed to completion. A tremendous building boom is about to start and the time to buy is now, as values are going to double and treble in value.

Come out and see these lots tomorrow—select one before it's too late, as the few remaining lots will be grabbed up by builders several at a time—at present prices Hi-Pointe is the greatest value offered in St. Louis. Easy terms.

Influenza, Sore Throat, Colds, Pneumonia

Yields Quickly to Antiseptic Oil Treatment.

Many are finding relief from Influenza, Colds, Sore Throat and perhaps preventing pneumonia, it is said, by the use of Miller's Antiseptic Oil (known as Snake Oil). Its great penetrating, pain-relieving qualities insure almost instant relief when applied freely on the chest or throat well greased when first symptoms arise. The oil penetrates through to the affected parts and tends to open up the air passages, making breathing more easy, relieving the pains. And for the cough a few drops on a little sugar usually brings prompt relief. Don't fail to have a bottle on hand when the attack comes on, and if used according to directions results are assured, or your money refunded. On sale at Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. and Enderle Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo., and all druggists, 30c, 60c and $1.00 bottles.—ADV.

HOUSTON'S PLANS TO AID FARMERS IN POST-WAR CHANGES

Road-Building Under Federal Aid Act to Be Big Factor in Reconstruction, Says Secretary of Agriculture.

"FARMER CAN'T GO BACK TO OLD STATE"

Suggests Personal Credit Unions, Supervision of Land Settlement and Control of Packing Industry.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Reconstruction plans, in the opinion of Secretary of Agriculture Houston, should include resumption of highway construction under the Federal aid road act, creation of a system of person credit unions for farmers, systematic supervision of land settlement, provisions for safeguarding the rights of tenants and encouragement of farm ownership, continuation of Government supervision of stockyards and related industries, and extension of the benefits of modern medicine and sanitation to rural districts.

These views of the Secretary, expressed in conference to agricultural editors of the country, at a meeting here several days ago, were authorized for publication today.

Confidence was expressed by Houston that agriculture, which, he said, "probably was the best prepared interest in the nation when the war came," would be one of the first to readjust itself to a peace basis. Nevertheless, he said, the farmer and the farm cannot go back to the pre-war state.

Highways to Be Big Factor.

The public highways, Secretary Houston told the editors, will be a vital factor in the reconstruction period. For that reason, he said, highway construction should be started as soon as possible.

Under the Federal aid road act, Federal and state funds appointed for road building and not expended owing to the stoppage of construction by the war, will amount this year to about $75,000,000. Road building he termed a worthy project for employment of the surplus labor supply expected to result from demobilization of the army.

Though farmers with proper security may now obtain loans through the farm loan banks, Secretary Houston said some means must be devised for furnishing financial assistance for the farmers who cannot offer land as collateral. Establishment of personal credit unions, preferably by the states, would meet this problem, he said.

Discussing the possibility that many of the returning soldiers may wish to take up farming, the Secretary said it would be desirable to facilitate land settlement in more systematic fashion. This, he said, has too long been left "to the haphazard intervention of private enterprises and the nation has suffered not a little from irresponsible private direction."

Beginning Farmers.

Both Federal and State Governments should furnish, in his opinion, reliable information and agricultural guidance to beginning farmers and should promote well-considered settlement plans.

Particularly vital, Houston held, is that the process of acquiring ownership of farms be encouraged and hastened. Tenancy should be protected for it "is a step towards ownership."

The restoration and maintenance of conditions which will justify confidence in the livestock markets and the meat-packing industry, the Secretary termed the greatest single need in the present meat situation in the United States. The economic welfare of meat production and distribution would be promoted, he said, by the continuation and development in some form of supervision over the packing industry. He urged that the necessary legislation should be enacted at the earliest possible moment.

Health and Sanitation.

To promote rural health and sanitation, he explained that an effective sanitary survey should be made of the country, the sources of such diseases as typhoid fever be eradicated, steps be taken to control the hookworm and mosquitoes and the country districts be given the advantages of modern hospitals, nursing and specialized medical practice.

Discussing the world-supply situation, Secretary Houston said it appeared "highly probable that prices for current supplies, for the harvests of this year, both because of large foreign needs and of continuing domestic demands, will remain reasonably high and remunerative to producers."

It was yet too early, he said, to advise regarding planting next spring, as no one can foretell the supply and demand and the prices a year hence.

Ferguson "Smiles" Tomorrow.

The filming of the final group for the "Send a Smile" pictures will be that of the relatives of men in service from Ferguson. This will take place at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning on the grounds of the high school. Ferguson claims the distinction of having more men in service, in proportion to its population, than any other town in Missouri.

War eVteran Killed by Train.

Henry Martin of Hastings, Neb., a veteran of the Mexican and Civil Wars, was accidentally killed by a Wabash train, about six miles west of St. Charles, Mo., at noon yesterday. Martin was walking along the tracks and failed to heed a warning whistle, according to the engineer. His body was identified by honorable discharges from the army dated in 1851 and 1865. He was about 7 years old.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Oklahoma Suffrage Campaign.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In an editorial on Sept. 15, referring to the help expected from Kansas in the Oklahoma Woman Suffrage Campaign, the Post-Dispatch said: "The Kansas women did not permit Eastern workers to aid them and they have advised the Oklahoma women not to admit the Easterners or professional suffragists. These capable Kansas women will finance their own campaign in Oklahoma."

The National Suffrage Association advised the Oklahoma women not to have an amendment submitted, as they had not sufficient organization or funds to carry on the campaign that would be necessary. The Legislature, however, persisted in submitting it, and the women of Oklahoma at once appealed to the national association for assistance. On account of the provision in the constitution that an amendment must receive the largest number of votes cast at an election, the national leaders felt that success would be impossible, but, at the same time, they recognized the necessity for obtaining a large favorable vote because of the influence it would have on the Federal amendment. It therefore co-operated with the women of the State from the beginning to the end of the campaign. For many months it kept in the State six of its most experienced workers headed by Mrs. Shuler, its corresponding secretary, an experienced campaigner, and there was entire harmony between the national and State workers.

From the national headquarters in New York State $15,000 were sent to finance the work, and it is thought that the State itself raised about $5000, although the exact amount is not yet known. No Kansas women did any work whatever in the campaign, but they did raise a little over $400 for its treasury. Massachusetts furnished a like amount, and several other states sent contributions, all of which were gladly received.

We believe that anyone in Oklahoma who is familiar with the facts will not hesitate to admit that, had it not been for this help from outside of the State, it would have been absolutely impossible to carry the amendment. It was cheerfully given and has been a thousand times repaid by the wonderful response of Oklahoma men for whom the women have the highest appreciation. It is almost unprecedented for an amendment to be carried where so large a majority is required. The official reports have not been made, but the reports from the election boards of the different counties indicate a majority of over 25,000 of the votes cast on the amendment itself and a majority of about 10,000 of the largest number of votes cast at the election. In this respect it was the most remarkable victory ever gained for a woman suffrage amendment. The leaders of the suffrage movement recognize no East, no West, no South, in the effort to enfranchise the women of the United States.

IDA HUSTED HARPER,
Editorial Chairman, Leslie Suffrage Bureau, 171 Madison av., New York.

Make It Wilson Boulevard.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Allow me to suggest that King's highway be changed to Wilson boulevard. Who seconds the motion?

And as to Baden, well, what ought to be done with that objectionable name?

PUBLIC OPINION.

Flaws in Our Democracy.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Presumably no one could tell just what the Bishop of Northampton, England, meant by referring to our democracy as "thin ice." But is not even the use of the phrase quite suggestive? Archbishop Glennon's introductory remarks opened the door wide for the discussion of a few matters upon which some Americans have been faithfully working.

The worst war the world has known has just been fought for democracy. It has been said again and again that in England the reality of war conditions has wrought changes for clean democracy and allround fair play that America has but mentioned as yet.

Was this in the Bishop's mind or did he mean the remark to be taken as straight-fledged English? Thin ice is a treacherous thing. It will not hold weight. Is our democracy a thing with spots of thin ice so weak that it will not stand the weight of full open truth? Is our democracy fair to rich and poor, to labor and capital; a democracy with law made and enforced for the good of all people, black, yellow and white? Is it a democracy that provides for the education of all of its children—a democracy alert in detecting and stamping out exploitation of its citizens, of whatever form; a real live democracy in business looking after the welfare of its people and their best interests?

Had the Bishop recently read an account of Southern mob rule, or did he in general wish to steer clear of any statement that because of the cut of its truth might be misunderstood?

H. RHETTA.

OPEN DIPLOMACY; FREE DISCUSSION.

Granting the assumptions of Senator Johnson, his protest against censorship of news about the peace conference and suppression of free discussion by Congress of peace terms are sound.

Senator Johnson's assumptions belong to the category of things that are important, if true. He assumes much. It is popular, especially in political opposition circles, to assume that President Wilson harbors dictatorial ambitions and wants to run the United States and the whole peace conference himself, without counsel or assistance from anyone.

The seizure of the cables, unfortunately, has given ground for suspicion and accusations of ulterior designs in suppression of news. The President has not said much in explanation of his visit to Europe or of his plans with respect to his intentions with regard to his duties here or his plans abroad. Doubtless he has been absorbed in the task of making his plans and deciding upon his appointments for the peace conference.

It should be borne in mind that the President has been frank concerning war aims and peace terms. He has been a candid spokesman, when statesmen of other nations were vague or silent, not only for the United States, but for the band of nations associated to destroy autocracy. The public knows the general objects which the President wants to gain and we may assume that he will take the public into his confidence as to details when the time is ripe. That has been his custom in the past and if he abandons the publicity policy now he will make a stupendous blunder. Why assume that he will commit the blunder?

One of the chief points of the President's aims is open diplomacy—no secret bargaining and no secret alliances. Open diplomacy as he interprets it means an open, frank discussion at the peace table and publicity of all proceedings and agreements. This means inevitably information concerning the proceedings and free expression of opinion and discussion outside of the conference. If the President's influence is not wholly on the side of publicity and public discussion, he will abandon one of his principal planks. We refuse to assume that he will do this; we prefer to wait for proofs.

We protest against the congressional habit of fighting shadows and setting up straw men to knock down. We protest against assumptions of wrongdoing. The fact is that the peace settlement is the biggest job in the world just now, and as President Wilson is the biggest factor in the job, we are not disposed to cavil at the method he may select to do it. If he believes his personal presence and free interchange of views with the heads of other Governments necessary to a right settlement, we yield to his judgment. A right settlement is of paramount importance, far exceeding that of the routine work of the presidency.

We are in sympathy, and we believe the great majority of the American people are in sympathy with the defined aims and purposes of Mr. Wilson, and the realization of these aims and purposes is vital to human welfare. It takes precedence of everything else.

We agree that the situation is critical and if any attempt is made by Mr. Wilson or the administration to suppress news or to keep the public in the dark or to suppress free discussion of American policies and ends, it will be the greatest blunder in history and the harm will be incalculable. We do not assume that he needs warning of this kind, but whether he needs it or not, he has it.

The men who so valiantly defended Liege at the beginning of the war have been vindicated and avenged. They died but they had the right idea and before departing they blazed a trail for universal freedom.

NOW FOR THE GREATER ST. LOUIS.

City Counselor Daues and Charles W. Bates, pursuing independent lines of inquiry, are investigating the legal requirements that must be complied with in framing the enabling act authorizing a local vote on the question of merging St. Louis County territory with St. Louis city. The conviction that the merger can be accomplished without a constitutional amendment—the course persistently urged by Judge Rosenfeld—is gaining strong support among lawyers. The Mayor and the forces of the city administration, the Chamber of Commerce, the Million Population Club and other organizations are preparing for a systematic presentation of annexation facts to the people of the city and county.

These are all important preliminaries. The Legislature will meet in six weeks. With nothing more important to divert public attention, the work of satisfying all conditions for making the annexation plan a success should be pushed effectively and uninterruptedly. The Greater St. Louis project has been the object of effort for many years. If not made a reality during the coming year, long delay seems certain. The reasonable expedition that will put it into effect before the beginning of the next census can be secured by concentrated effort and wise, energetic co-operation.

Now give again.

DISPOSING OF THE SURRENDERED FLEET.

The astonishing statement is made that the surrendered German fleet is to be taken out to sea and sunk. This course is explained as preferable to an attempt, at risk of ill feeling, to divide the ships among the allies. We may conjecture that the real reason is a reluctance on the part of some to see Japan increase her naval strength with any part of the surrendered ships. But if Japan is to be regarded with distrust at the very outset, what promise of success will the league of nations have later?

These ships are said to represent $250,000,000. To add to the unavoidable wastes of war the further unnecessary waste of sending this great sum to the ocean's bottom is intolerable, particularly as disposal of them without international friction is easy. Some part of them could be assigned to the nations of small maritime strength, Belgium, Portugal, Greece, Servia and Rumania. Even China, Siam and the Latin-American allies of the Entente might be given a gunboat apiece as a souvenir. Then the remainder could be divided in five equal parts, which all would agree had been made as nearly equal as possible, and distributed by lot among England, France, Japan, Italy and the United States. To send them to sea in a long column and commit them to Neptune would make a tremendous spectacle, but could not the downfall of German militarism be celebrated as fittingly in a grand international raffle?

The world will have pressing need some day of the hundreds of thousands of tons of steel of which these ships are fabricated. Might they not be sold as junk steel?

We have taken the U out of murder.

AT THE END OF THE RAINBOW.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspaper and periodicals on the questions of the day.

APPLY THE GOLDEN RULE.

From the Christian Science Monitor.

ON both the side of the employer and that of the employe there must be an agreement to share equally such sacrifices as may be necessary in order to bring industrial conditions back to the normal. There must be a resumption of regular business or there can be no resumption of regular employment. The employer must be placed in a position to make the pay roll. On the other hand, wages should not be fixed at a figure which the worker must accept under competition, or compulsion, but at what his work is worth, and with special regard for the living requirements of the toiler.

The two principal factors in the situation must be fair to each other; no employer who is moved by other than the most selfish of motives will take advantage of a surplus of laborers to grind the man appealing for work. The world is now looking to one of the greatest triumphs of righteousness in international affairs which it has ever witnessed; justice, even-handed justice, it is promised, shall reign at Versailles, and the consequences should, and presumably will, be the recognition of a moral standard that shall insure a square deal for all nations, small and large, weak and powerful. It is an opportune moment for the entrance of labor and capital into a treaty which hereafter will bind each, in its dealings with the other, to observe the Golden Rule.

This is the one thing needful in order to bring about a readjustment of industrial conditions that shall proceed quietly, harmoniously, and successfully. The selfish and the grasping, those on either side who are looking for undue or unfair advantage, those who are not willing to seek settlements based on equity, should be given neither place nor power in industrial councils. The war has decided, in advance of the Versailles conference, that might is not right, and that such a pretension on the part of force will never hereafter be even tacitly recognized by civilization.

What applies to nations, in this respect, applies to individuals and groups of individuals. Right only carries might, and the employer or the employe who proceeds upon any other basis is certain, sooner or later, to be rudely awakened to the realization of his great mistake.

BRINGING BODIES HOME.

From the Indianapolis News.

IT is encouraging to see that the example of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, in deciding not to bring home the body of their son Quentin, is leading others in this country to make the same decision. As Mr. Roosevelt pointed out in his letter to Gen. March, bringing the body home after a long period had passed would simply mean an additional period of suffering and sorrow that might well be avoided. Those who desire the bodies of their relatives brought home may not understand this feeling but there is much in it to commend. There is a sentiment, of course, that desires that the mortal remains of loved ones shall rest at home. There might well be another sentiment that the bodies should lie where they fell, hallowing the ground of a foreign state and bringing the people of the world closer together.

JUST A MINUTE

TO THE NEWSPAPER MEN SLAIN IN BATTLE.

WE knew them well.
We watched them move unstaled beneath the spell
Of trivial things, industriously footing
The daybook of the Devil and the Flesh,
Punching the clock of History and putting
The frivolous old World at last to bed.
But when the blood of Freedom, fierce and fresh,

Called from the fields of wrath unharvested,
We saw their own blood sting the darkening cheek,
We knew the road their eager feet must seek.

And yet, and yet—
When up the glacis of death's parapet
They swept amid the lustral flame primeval
And dauntless flung their liberating souls
Full in the fangs of Tyranny and Evil—
Ah, to have known them then! To seize and sense
The sacrificial moment that controls
The destiny of Time! To feel the intense
Emancipation from the shattered clod
Of sudden eagles soaring up to God!
For us they died
Facing in their last assignment sanctified
In fellowship with all things clean and splendid.

For us they bore the muck and filth of it
As men on whom a gift of grace descended.
For us they wrestled with the Night of Fear
And slew the black assemblage of the Pit.
Yet not for us, nor all the world holds dear,
Would they one fatal footfall have withdrawn
Ere their bright, blinded spirits lit the dawn.

Sleep, friends, and rest.
Sistered by France and wedded to her breast.
Above your bivouac there the sentinel flowers
Will challenge only vagrant butterflies
Through the long, dreamless, summer-silken hours
That weave a winding sheet of peace for you.
But on mysterious eves of hushed surmise,
While ancient captains muster in review,
Among your crosses glimmering in the grass
The Christ Himself, the Crucified, shall pass!

—Ralph Renaud in New York Tribune.

Sir: I read an article the other day somewhere on what the Germans invented:

Steamboats? No.
Railroad? No.
Telegraph? No.
Telephone? No.
Cotton machinery? No.
Submarines? No.

Today I picked up an advertising circular, and find they did not invent gas attack for use in warfare:

"A polecat thought of gassin' his enemy long before the German army did."

J. R. H.

"DOUGHBOYS."

From the Stars and Stripes.

Once, in a distant and reckless moment, the Stars and Stripes led the horse up to the trough and announced that, thereafter, everybody in the army would be, in our eyes, columns and vocabulary, a doughboy.

We remember that we defined the field of this blanket nomenclature as being bounded on the one side by Gen. Pershing and, on the other, by our leather-neck cartoonist.

Well, the horse didn't drink. The world and the war have gone blissfully on. An Engineer is an Engineer, an Artilleryman is an Artilleryman, a Cavalryman is a Cavalryman and an Infantryman is a doughboy.

So be it. We will say in defense that the decision was made during the time when the but recently defunct "Sammy" made us desperate. If anybody has any appropriate nicknames for the Engineers, the Cavalry or the Artillery, we might be induced to try them out. But we won't agree to sponsor them.

Anyhow, "Yanks" got over.

There is a saying in the army that the infantry are called doughboys "because they are the flower of the army and we need them."

Sir: My niece, 5 years old, was present yesterday at a heated discussion as to who was the direct cause of the war. She listened quietly and intently and took advantage of a short silence to speak:

"If I was God," she said, "I wouldn't have made the Kaiser."

That definitely closed the discussion.

MY son, your daddy greets you!
Welcome to the sphere
That somehow seems much better, now at least, my boy; you're here!
I have to say of daughters not a thing that isn't nice,
But the stork on prior visits brought me girlie babies twice—(You'll know them as your sisters, and mighty sweet, they two,
And daddy wouldn't swap 'em for all the world)—and you
Are the boy your daddy wanted, and
I'm powerful glad you've come—
Put on your clothes; find ma, and eat—and make yourself 't hum!

Former U. S. Attorney-General Says Marshall Must Assume Office if President Goes Away

Constitution Provides That President's Functions Would Cease and Vice President Would Have to Act, Declares George W. Wickersham.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—George W. Wickersham, Attorney-General in the Taft administration, in an address here last night before more than a hundred educators, lawyers, bankers and merchants engaged in international trade, who are members of the Council on Foreign Relations, advanced the opinion that the Constitution makes it mandatory upon Vice President Marshal to assume office of President if Mr. Wilson leaves the United States to attend the peace conference.

"The projected journey of the President to France and his suggested sojourn there for an indefinite period," said Wickersham, "brings up for the first time in our history the question of the effect of such absence and of the powers of the Vice President because of such absence."

The former Attorney-General quoted Section 1 of Article 2 of the United States Constitution which, he said, prescribes the mode of procedure "in event of the President's removal from office, his death, resignation or inability to discharge the duties of said office." He maintained that absence of the President from the seat of government and the country "constitutes an inability to discharge the powers and duties of his office," within the meaning of the law.

Two Functions of President.

According to Wickersham the two most important functions the President has to perform in connection with a session of Congress, at which time, he added, "it is the President's duty to be at the seat of government," are:

"First, from time to time to 'give to Congress information of the state of the Union and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient,' and, second, 'to consider bills which shall have passed the House and Senate, and if he approve, to sign them, and if he disapprove, to veto them.'"

The 10 days provided by the law wherein the President must return a bill or it automatically becomes law, according to Wickersham, was intended "to give citizens interested in the bill an opportunity of communicating their views to him." Thus the President, he contended, is expected always to be in a position to "feel the pulse of public sentiment," and "if he is not within the country he cannot fitly discharge those duties."

Legislation Matters.

A third consideration, the speaker continued, "subsidiary to the others, but none the less important," is in reference to the exercise by the President of a function in connection with legislation. In case of disagreement between the two houses as to time of adjournment, he said, the President may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper. This power, he admitted, had never been exercises in the past, because the President always has been at the seat of the Government when Congress was in session, "and able to avert by friendly council and suggestion the necessity of exercising it."

Wickersham, in these points, declared the absence of the President in Europe would "constitute an inability to discharge the powers and duties of his office."

"The Constitution," he concluded, "does not provide who shall decide when a disability occurs justifying the Vice President in assuming to act President. If the Vice President should assume to act and should himself veto a bill and at the expiration of 10 days from the date of its passage no veto from the President himself in writing should have been received, a question would arise for the courts to determine as to the powers of the Vice President to act for the President.

Question Up for First Time.

"That these questions in the past never have arisen for actual decision as a tribute to the wisdom of our Presidents in conforming with the traditions of their great office, with that unbroken custom which ripens into law, and in not suffering the whisperings of personal ambition to lead them to depart from the paths of accustomed action, thereby avoiding the creation of new, uncertain, and, perhaps, dangerous questions of constitutional right and power."

John Barrett, director-general of the Pan-American Union, another speaker, suggested that the coming peace conference can find inspiration in the organization and record of the Union, which he asserted, had "as a great league of 21 American republics, been for many years a going concern in the mighty work for peace and for the development of good understanding, commerce and trade."

Barrett pointed out that since the founding of the Union in 1906 there had been no war between American republics, and that "its moral influence undoubtedly has been the effective preventive of several possible wars." Actual power to prevent war on the western hemisphere should be conferred on the Union, he said, "by a brief international treaty of all the American Governments."

He declared the Union to be "the prototype of the proposed universal league of nations."

Marshall Would Assume Office Only on Direction of Court.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Nov. 27.—Vice President Marshall, commenting here last night upon the contention of former Attorney-General Wickersham in an address in New York that the Vice President would be bound under the Constitution to assume the Presidency during President Wilson's absence in Europe, said:

"I can state now definitely and positively that I shall not of my own volition assume President Wilson's office or the duties thereof if the President departs from the United States to attend the peace conference. As for the suggestion that a joint resolution of Congress might be adopted to 'set the Vice President in motion,' this proposal is entirely new to me, and I am unable to commit myself as to what I would do if Congress should adopt such a resolution.

"In answer to the suggestion that a court having jurisdiction might mandamus me to assume the duties of President, I unquestionably would assume the Presidency if a court having jurisdiction directed me to do so.

"I have assumed from the first that there was no barrier to Mr. Wilson's leaving the country to attend the peace conference. I supported his decision to go heartily."

NEW FINNISH CABINET FORMED, WITH M. INGMANN AT HEAD

Change Means Reversal of Policy, With Government Controlled by Gen. Mannerheim.

By the Associated Press.

STOCKHOLM, Tuesday, Nov. 26.—A new Finnish Cabinet has been formed. It is headed by M. Ingmann, while Senator Castren becomes Minister of Finance, and M. Enckell, former State Secretary, is Foreign Minister. This Cabinet was appointed yesterday and marks a complete reversal of Finland's policy.

The new Government is that of Gen. Mannerheim, though he is unable to succeed Judge Pehr Edwin Svinhufvud as head of the Finnish Government because he is now visiting in England and France.

The new ministry represents all the middle-class parties, with the exception of the agrarians. Its program is to bring about recognition of Finland's independence by all the Powers, if possible, before the peace conference, stemming Bolshevist propaganda from Russia and solving food problems.

RUMANIAN TRANSYLVANIA HAS PROCLAIMED HER INDEPENDENCE

Paris Paper Says Hungary Refused Demand for Transfer of All Her Departments.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—Rumanian Transylvania has proclaimed its independence and has sent an ultimatum to the Hungarian Government asking that all political, administrative and judicial departments in territories inhabited by Rumanians in Hungary and Transylvania be handed over.

Hungary has refused and the National Rumanian Government has broken off negotiations, declining all responsibility for the consequences, blame for which, it says, will be placed on the National Hungarian Council, according to advices to the Matin.

U. S. PLANS TO SEND HOME THOUSANDS OF WOUNDED DAILY

Homeward Movement Is Progressing Satisfactorily; 8500 Nurses and 13,000 Doctors Overseas.

By the Associated Press.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES, Tuesday, Nov. 26.—Reports by the Medical Department show that the homeward movement of convalescent sick and wounded American soldiers is progressing rapidly and satisfactorily, and when it is at full tide it probably will aggregate several thousand men daily. This will soon remove from France all Americans in hospital able to travel. For those who are forced to remain there will be a surplus of accommodations.

There are today in France nearly 300,000 beds. Many of the American hospitals are in the most pleasant portions of France. The base hospitals are organized to perform any variety of medical or surgical work, the hospital centers being divided into groups and each hospital devoted to specific classes of injuries or diseases.

The total number of nurses on duty for the American expeditionary forces exceeds 8500. There are nearly 13,000 doctors in attendance.

When the armistice was signed there was in process of construction for an expected lengthy campaign more than 425,000 beds for hospitals. The work on these has been suspended.

BOLSHEVIKI INVADE ESTHONIA

General Demobilization Ordered in Baltic Province as Germans Plan to Leave.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Russian Bolshevik troops have crossed the river Narva on a broad front and have entered Esthonia, between the Gulf of Finland and Lake Peipus, says a Central News dispatch from Stockholm.

General mobilization has been ordered in Esthonia, which the Germans are expected to leave within a fortnight, the dispatch adds.

Dorothy Dix's Remedy for Sensitiveness: Turn the Limelight Off of Yourself

That Part of Easily Injured Feelings Which Is Not Overwhelming Vanity, She Says, Is Rank Selfishness.

By Dorothy Dix.

I HAVE a letter from a young man who says he likes nobody and that nobody like him, because he is of a melancholy and sensitive temperamen. He says he just "freezes up" in company—that he can't say a word or make himself agreeable to others, because he thinks that they are ridiculing him. In consequence of this he never goes anywhere, and he is very lonely and unhappy, and he wants to know what to do about it.

There is just one remedy for oversensitiveness, and that is to cure one's self of selfishness and vanity. For that is what sensitiveness is when you strip it of all of the chiffons and adornments with which those who are afflicted with this malady camouflage it.

People are sensitive because their vanity makes them imagine that public attention is focused upon them, and that whatever they do is of such great importance that it is a matter of grave discussion. If they can only get rid of their exaggerated ego, and realize that no other human being in the world but themselves takes the slightest interest in how they look, what they have got on, what they think, or say, their sensitiveness dies of inanition because it has got nothing to feed upon. Just quit turning the limelight on yourself and you won't be bothered any more with that sensitive feeling.

The part of sensitiveness that isn't overwhelming vanity is rank selfishness. People are sensitive because they are greedy, because they want the prizes of life handed to them on a silver salver. They want success, fame, riches, love, devotion, friendship, attention, and when they don't get them their precious feelings are hurt.

They never ask why the gods should have bestowed these blessings on them instead of another. They never inquire what peculiar merits they have got that they should have been especially singled out for high favors. And they are never willing to toil and sacrifice to attain their heart's desire, as the balance of us do.

If you will notice, you will observe that the overly sensitive are invariably failures. Smithkins, who has never knuckled down to a real day's work, is sensitive about never having succeeded in life. Jonesby, who hasn't a particle of real talent, is sensitive about still playing thinking parts after having been on the stage for 20 years. Aunt Hannah, who has a disposition that is a cross between a cat and a vinegar cruet, is sensitive about people not asking her to visit them.

And so it goes. Men and women call their laziness and their lack of ability, and their disagreeable traits of character sensitiveness, and they persuade themselves that the reason they have never gotten on in the world, and the reason they are not beloved, is because of their sensitiveness. They say they are too fine and delicately attuned for this coarse and cruel world, whereas the truth of the matter is they are merely quitters and slackers who were not willing to pay the price of the thing they wanted, but expected it to be given them free, gratis, for nothing.

YOU never hear of successful people being sensitive. They are too busy doing things to be on the lookout for slights. They are too much absorbed in getting results to notice whether the world is standing around admiring them or not. They are perfectly aware that they are not the only pebbles on the beach, and that it is no more lese majesty for other people to criticise them than it is for them to knock other people, and so they do not worry about what others may be saying of them.

Oversensitiveness is one of the most despicable faults that anyone can have. It is also a handicap that effectually bars one from winning the race of life, because it makes its unhappy possessor persona non grata to the balance of the world.

The sensitive man and woman are about as agreeable to have around the premises as a bristling porcupine. Every time you step you tread on one of their precious feelings, and nobody in this hustling age has got time or inclination to be sidestepping the little peculiarities of those with whom they must deal.

Probably there is not one of us who hasn't had it in our power, time and again, to throw some good job in the way of a certain man or woman, but we refrain from doing it because experience has taught us that the particular individual we had in mind can never get along with anybody else, and would be sure to get insulted, or have his or her feelings hurt, and leave at some critical moment. So we gave the place to somebody with less ability and a thicker skin.

In speaking of jealousy, the poet declared he would pluck it from his bosom though his heart were at its root. The supersensitive should follow the same heroic treatment and have a major operation performed on their delicate feelings, but they won't, because instead of being ashamed of their infirmity and recognizing it for the deadly disease it is, they have a morbid admiration for it, and coddle and encourage its growth, though it invariably ends in killing their chances and their happiness in life.

Yet oversensitiveness can be cured by the simple process of quitting thinking about yourself, and considering the pleasure and happiness of other people.

Pretty Business Frock

Designed by Mildred Lodewick.

OF equal importance with individuality in the clothes of the business girl is conservatism. An employer likes to feel that a girl's thoughts and ambitions are in her work, and a girl who would be successful should strive to maintain this atmosphere about her. She cannot expect to do so, however, if she wears clothes that are unduly attractive or extremely modish. A quiet, unassuming yet business-like manner is best expressed by clothes that are neat and trim and conservatively smart. The design I am offering today admirably exemplifies such a type of dress. Built on straight lines, it is in one piece from neck to hem, with a narrow belt loosely defining the waistline and offering a decorative metal buckle at the front. Down the back of the Frock a broad panel is held secure by many buttons on each side. Continuing over the shoulders, this panel assumes the form of an exaggerated bib that drops almost to the beltline, with the buttons securing it only a third of the way. Over this bib a sheer white one of smaller dimentions, made of plain and tucked Georgette, which also composes the narrow flat collar. If desired, tan or gray could be used for this neck arrangement on a dark blue or brown frock.

The Sandman Story for Tonight

By MRS. F. A. WALKER.

The Giant's Bridge.

THERE was great excitement in the Fairy Queen's bed chamber for a mouse had ventured in. This threw the lady fairies into fits of alarm, and caused them to mount chairs and scream for the tiny men who were playing ball in the courtyard.

The first to answer was pudgy little Dunk, who was a sort of page to Queen May. Dunk was short—about a foot high—his hair stood straight up in all directions and he was always around when the Queen was in trouble to help her out. So in he rushed, found the mouse and put it in a box.

"Kill it!" called the lady, who wore a purple gown, "or drown it at once; it is a horrid thing."

But Dunk only took it out into the field and opened the box so it could jump away.

"Run along, mousie," he said, kindly, "and don't come near the Queen's room again."

"You may be sure I will not," replied the mouse. "Those women, screaming, frightened me almost to death. But remember, if I can aid you at any time, I am your friend."

When Dunk got back to the fairy palace he heard a weeping and wailing.

"Oh! Dunk," sobbed the Queen, "just to think what has happened now. My pigeon carrier brings me the news that a huge giant is coming this way to dig up our beautiful Fairyland and turn it into a park for his huge beasts that he hunts with a bow and arrow. What will we do about it? He is now only a few miles away at the other side of the river. And he is so big, so strong, that he can build a bridge out of the stones which are so huge. He will have no trouble making one in a night."

But Dunk told the Queen not to worry, but to take a nap, because he would make things all right in a few hours.

Then he set out to take a walk so that he could think up a plan to keep the giant away.

Over the cool autumn fields he went till at last he sat down on a log, deeply studying. Presently he felt a touch on his foot.

"It's only myself," said a tiny mouse which stood by his toe. "You seem in trouble. What can I do for you? I am the mouse which you set free just now."

Dunk laughed.

"I AM in trouble— a very great trouble," he replied. "A trouble far too big for a tiny mouse or a tiny man like myself to tackle."

"But tell me what it is," continued the mouse. "Sometimes little folks can do the most after all."

So Dunk explained the situation and all about the huge giant coming to destroy their home.

"I know about that," said the mouse. "He is the giant called Grumblebones, and always goes to sleep at sunset. It is almost time now for the sun to set, so if he has built that bridge, he will soon be asleep and remain that way till morning. Go home and leave matters to me, and they will turn out all right."

Dunk returned to the palace and felt sure that things would be arranged to prevent the giant coming into Fairyland.

The mouse ran rapidly to a friend and told it to go to a third and tell it to be at the bridge over the river at midnight. Each mouse was to tell two others, these two were to tell another two, and so the number was to be kept growing, and the news spread in three hours all over the land. At midnight 10,000 mice stood at the foot of the bridge.

"I want each one of you to dig as fast as you can at the foot of these tall timbers on which this bridge rests. If we work fast and hard, we ought to have the bridge so weakened by dawn that it will fall with the giant. Now to work."

In the moonlight the thousands of mice set to work. By the time the dawn was growing rosy in the sky the first little mouse said to the others:

"Stop; the work is done. If the giant ventures over his weight will break the bridge in two and he will fall in the river." By sunrise the giant came striding down to the shore and started to cross. He stalked on till he got toward the far end, then suddenly the supports of the bridge gave way, and down he fell. The huge giant tumbled into the river and disappeared from view.

As a reward for this deed Dunk took the mouse to see the Queen.

"You dear thing," said the Queen. "You saved our lives and our country, so never in the future will any fairy be afraid of a mouse."

And fairies never are, as you will find out if you will spend a night in Fairyland.

Husbands and Wives We Know

By Nixola Greeley-Smith.

V.—The Soul Mates.

YES—some soulmates are married!

Though the term has been limited recently to the association of the unwedded, the institution of matrimony has not escaped its share of these humorless individuals.

Few men volunteer for the job of soulmate, most of them being conscripted into it by the overweening sentimentality of the women who love them.

If I were a man I should prefer to endure every torture known to ancient Chinese justice rather than the all-too-lavish love of a woman with no sense of humor and apparently no knowledge of decorum. From wives who hold hands in public, who speak with their eyes things they might be arrested for saying, who introduce the manners of the harem into restaurants and drawing rooms, good Lord, deliver men!

Lives there a man with soul so dead to the opinion of his fellows as not to writhe when subjected to public manifestations of wifely emotion? I do not believe so.

But very often he cannot help himself. For in the middle of a conversation with a woman guest on some neutral subject like the operation of the Liberty motor or the wireless direction of aeroplanes, his anxious soulmate is sure to come up, ruffle his hair, pat him on the shoulder and perhaps even suggest that he's so tired, poor darling, from his long day at the office that he can hardly keep his eyes open—"can you, dear?" For whenever the unfortunate masculine half of the soulmate combination is seen to exchange 10 words with another woman his hovering and suspicious partner finds it necessary to assert her ownership publicly and brand him with the brand.

It has always seemed to me singular that women who believe they have found their soulmates are so subject to jealousy. After all, if a man was selected for you when the morning stars were cutting their first teeth, why worry? What mere mortal female can interfere with the eternal decree?

Another peculiarity of soul-mates is that in marriage as well as out of it their affinity lasts only a short time. I shall never forget being taken to call on two extreme specimens of the type who must have bedarlinged each other at least 50 times apiece in the course of an hour's visit. In this case the wife was a poet, some of whose songs had been set to music.

Have you heard Elizabeth's latest lyric? the husband would ask, and before you had time to answer would begin to recite it—with all the more gusto because the "heaven-born Hermes" she apostrophized was so obviously intended for himself.

Elizabeth being finally persuaded to sing a musical version of another poem, her "Hermes" picked her up from the divan where she had posed laboriously all evening and carried her over to the piano amid applause from the admiring guests.

"The Barksdales are what I call genuine affinities. They are perfectly mated in every way," confided the friend who took me to the poetic seance.

"How lovely for them," I observed sincerely, "but don't you think they might be less public about it?"

Their admirer looked pained, but the next I heard of the Barksdales was that they were separated.

The Housewife's Scrapbook

A GOOD salad can be made of celery and walnuts mixed with mayonnaise and served on lettuce. Use one-third walnuts and two-thirds celery. Another appetizing salad is made by scalding and boiling a large onion until soft. When cold, slice it and mix with sliced beets and shredded celery. Season with salt and pepper and add oil and vinegar to taste.

Lemons can be kept fresh if you place them on paper and turn a tumbler over each one.

When making cakes of corn flour, the addition of a little fat will make them light and more tender.

Do not add salt to the soup in cooking until it is thoroughly skimmed. The salt will prevent the scum from rising.

If you have no oxalic acid at hand you will find half a lemon dipped in salt quite as efficacious in cleaning copper or brass ware.

Save the bacon rinds and cook them with lentils or dried peas for soup, or boil them with beans or cabbage to give these vegetables a good flavor.

To clean your black coat, sponge it with strong black coffee to which a few drops of ammonia have been added. Then rub with a piece of dark woolen cloth.

For that hole in the granite or tin pans mix putty with linseed oil until soft and apply it on outside of hole.

Try fishline for hanging pictures. It is inconspicuous and fully as strong as wire. It is preferable for small pictures, because it hangs straighter than the wire.

You can draw threads for hemstitching quite easily if you wet a small brush and rub it over a cake of soap until you get a lather, then scrub over the threads you wish to draw.

Always sweep rugs and carpets the way of the grain. Brushing against the grain roughens the surface and it tends to brush the dust in instead of out.

Telephoning Made Easy.

A new amplifying attachment for telephone receivers which permits the instrument to be used without being held in the hands is connected to a receiver by slightly raising it from its hook and terminates in a horn beside the transmitter.

BACHELOR GIRL REFLECTIONS

By Helen Rowland.

WHY should the Kaiser be interned in a pleasant little place like Holland? Why can't we intern him in the New York subway or something?

Marching into Metz without a struggle must have been about as thrilling to our mettlesome doughboys as kissing one's own wife under the mistletoe.

Every girl's "ideals" are getting broader and broader these days. The military training makes them that way—especially across the shoulders.

Every man looks at a woman through his moods and his digestion—and it's pretty hard for the wife who serves his coffee in the morning, to have to compete with the fascinating pink-and-white stenographer who never sees him until after he has finished his second cup.

Pessimist: A man just recovering from his first love affair.

Optimist: The same man just escaping his thirty-first.

Wouldn't it be comforting if one could find that happy medium between the kind of husband who dresses as though he were going to a funeral, in the morning, and the kind who dresses as though he were going to a fire?

Armistice.

Now, in this hour of hopefully waiting,
Isn't it joyful—just to stop hating—
Just to forget that the Kaiser is living,
And dream, once again, of the sweet old Thanksgiving!

There are a hundred things that the cleverest man in the world CAN never understand—and 99 of them are women.

The man who takes a kiss "for granted" doesn't stand a chance beside the man who takes it BEFORE it is granted!

THE GILDED MAN

A Romance of the Andes

By CLIFFORD SMYTH

NARVA had arrived none too soon. As she spoke to the Queen, shouts were heard in the distance, and then the tramp of approaching footsteps. Sajipona advanced to the threshold of the palace, where, signing to the others to remain behind, she stood alone, awaiting the noisy intruders. Her defenseless position brought bitter protest from Narva that was supported by a movement among the others to protect their Queen. This was quickly rebuked; and when Raoul, his followers and the explorers poured into the garden they were confronted by a group of men and women who gave no sign of uneasiness at their arrival.

It should be noted here that, in spite of his defeat, pictured in the pool of light, Miranda had by no means relinquished his efforts to gain control of Raoul's men. He had followed along at their side, irrepressible in his attempts to hold their attention—a sort of gadfly whose persistent teasing nothing can stop. Raoul would have put an end to him, once and for all; but in this he found that his men, pacific by nature and training, would not uphold him. Miranda's rotund figure, vehemence, spasmodic energy, the unmitigated scorn with which he regarded all who differed from him, delighted them. He enjoyed the sort of immunity from punishment granted the old-time court jester. The cavemen liked him because they could never tell what he was going to do next. The novelty of so dynamic a personality appealed to their sense of humor. Thus, when they were all assembled in the garden, the little doctor's next move was awaited with eagerness. To their astonishment, the flourish expected of him was not forthcoming. Instead, he stood stock still, folded his arms across his chest with all the Napoleonic dignity he could muster, and glared at Raoul.

This extreme composure, however, was not shared by the rest of the explorers. At the first glimpse of Una, standing immediately behind Sajipona, Mrs. Quayle gave a shriek of joy and collapsed into the arms of the schoolmaster, whose own emotions made him a sorry support at the best. Leighton, on the contrary, accompanied by Herran, strode quickly forward and would have reached the threshold of the palace, had he not been waved imperiously aside by Raoul, who now summoned his followers about him, formed them into a close phalanx and advanced rapidly across the garden. When they were within a hundred yards of the palace they were suddenly met by two men of gigantic stature, who calmly ordered them to halt. Raoul was less intimidated than his followers, who recognized in this unexpected challenge an authority they were accustomed to obey. The two men confronting them evidently belonged to the priesthood. They were distinguished from the rest of Sajipona's courtiers by their dress, adorned by various symbolical figures embroidered in red and gold, and by two wands, each surmounted by an emerald, which they carried in their hands. Although without military backing, weaponless except for these wands, Raoul saw with dismay that the mere presence of these men excited the respect, and even the homage, of those about him. Many bowed before them; a few showed an unmistakable disposition to abandon their enterprise altogether and take refuge in flight.

Before this movement could become general, however, they were arrested by the appearance of Sajipona in their midst.

DESCENDING the steps of the palace, the Queen, attended only by Una and Narva, came swiftly forward to meet them. Her bearing, the proud majesty of her beauty, caused a murmur of admiration throughout the ranks of the cavemen that was punctuated by a hearty shout from Miranda, who watched the troubles of Raoul with unrestrained delight. It was not often, indeed, that the rank and file of the Land of the Condor came face to face with their queen. When they did so, the meeting aroused a profound feeling of pride and loyalty. Raoul seeing the effect Sajipona had upon his men, and already disconcerted by the reception accorded the two priests, had no mind for further encounters that might cost him his entire following. In the outside world, faced by a similar danger, he would have retreated. But here, in the midst of a subterranean labyrinth of unknown extent, retreat was impossible. The alternative was a bold rallying of his forces, a sudden rush for the prize he had ventured so far to win. Turning upon his men, he denounced them savagely for their apparent change of purpose, their cowardice.

"You will remain slaves!" he cried tauntingly. "We have your tyrants in our power. All you need do for your freedom is to follow me and take what belongs to you."

There were enough who understood his words to translate them to those ignorant of Spanish, and the immediate effect produced on these people, vacillating by nature, ever ready to yield to the strongest personality that appealed to them, was not far from that intended. Spears, knives, blowguns were brandished, a score or more men leaped forward uttering cries of triumph—and again the attack planned by Raoul seemed fairly under way and with a reasonable prospect of success. It was checked—but only for an instant—by a clamorous protest from Miranda. The latter, blazing with indignation, bounded to the front, gesticulating and menacing all who were within his reach.

"He is one canaille, this fellow!" he shouted. "He fight with the womens. He take from you all you have. Do not be stupid. He lie! He lie!"

This outburst astonished more than it convinced those to whom it was addressed. As Miranda spoke in a mixture of English and Spanish, scarcely anyone understood what he said. In another moment he would have been swept derisively aside, had not Sajipona quietly interposed. Pointing at Raoul, she spoke a few words to the cavemen in their native tongue. Then she turned to the man whose armed presence at the doors of her palace, threatened her authority, if not her life.

"So! This is the man who, a short time ago, I saved from death at the hands of an angry mob;" she said scornfully. "You did not come to my house then, Don Raoul, as you come now. And yet—if I order these men, who you think are your followers, to treat you as that other mob would have treated you, they would obey me. Be sure of that! And now, tell me; what have you done with Anitoo?"

Raoul hesitated a moment, then answered sullenly: "He attacked me. I killed him in self defense."

THE reply was only half understood by the cavemen; but the attitude of Raoul, contrasted with the majestic bearing and composure of Sajipona, had already aroused their indignation.

"It may have been, as you say, in self-defense—I have only your word for it. But, for the treachery, the rebellion you have brought here," the Queen went on, "by all the laws of our kingdom you should die. But I have something I wish you to do. If you do it, your life will be spared and you will be taken in safety from this cave never to enter it again."

Sajipona checked the tumult that she saw rising among the cavemen, and spoke a few words to them.

"I have told them," she explained, turning to Raoul, "that I knew of your coming—as I did. I have told them I have something for you to do before you are expelled from our kingdom. And I have pledged my word for your safety—although none of the men you have led here against me seem to care what happens to you. And now you will come with me."

There was a murmur of approval. Raoul looked fearfully at his followers. Their submission to the commands of the woman they were accustomed to obey was sufficiently evident to destroy his last hope for even a divided authority. Neither—for he was ignorant of their language—could he tell just what had passed between them and Sajipona. He was glad to accept, however, the Queen's promise of safety; and this, coupled with a desire to get to the bottom of the mystery that had fascinated him since he first met this strange and fascinating being, reconciled him to the enforced abandonment of his schemes for the conquest of a subterranean stronghold into which he had ventured too far to retreat. He therefore bowed his head to Sajipona's commands and prepared to do as she directed. His submission was greeted with ironical approval by Miranda, who now waddled forward impatiently, dragging Leighton with him, to enter the palace. But in this he was prevented by Sajipona.

"Senor, doctor," she said, pleasing his vanity by her knowledge of his professional title, "you must wait. There is much to be done. You are a fine general. You have helped save this palace, my kingdom and all of us from ruin. I am very grateful. Soon you will have everything that you want. And you and your friends will return to your own country in safety."

This unexpected check, although expressed in terms that were highly pleasing to Miranda's vanity, was received with a grumbling protest.

"But, senorita," he expostulated; "this young lady is here. I look for her everywhere in this cave. I am her family. She must come back to us."

"Not yet," was the calm reply. "Very soon, yes. But now she will stay with me."

There was a finality about this way of putting things that dashed even Miranda's impetuosity. Leighton, silently watching the brief altercation, and perceiving that Una, who still remained where Sajipona had left her, was perfectly calm and in no need of their assistance, exerted himself to restrain her headstrong champion. This was no easy matter, and the struggle between the two was watched with a covert smile by Sajipona. With the help of Herran and Andrew, however, Miranda's opposition was finally overcome. After which, without waiting to hear the tirade that, she could see, the doctor was ready to launch, the queen, followed by Raoul, turned to the palace. Regaining the entrance, she faced them once more and waved a farewell to the silent throng in the garden. Then, giving her hand to Una, she passed within, the great doors clanging behind her.

"My skin is so tender"

The new treatment for tender skins

Is your skin so tender that the least exposure to the weather makes it smart and burn—so tender that it is often painful even to wash?

Some people, with delicate, tender skins have been misled by the superstition that washing the face with soap is bad for the complexion. Dr. Pusey, the famous skin specialist, in his book on the care of skin, says: "The layer of dirt and fat that such persons accumulate on the skin is a constant invitation to various disorders."

The following Woodbury treatment is just what a sensitive skin needs to keep it active and resistant.

Dip a soft washcloth in warm water and hold it to the face. Then make a warm water lather of Woodbury's Facial Soap and dip your cloth up and down in it until the cloth is "fluffy" with the soft, white lather. Rub this lathered cloth gently over your skin until the pores are thoroughly cleansed. Then rinse the face with clear, cool water and dry carefully.

Make this treatment a nightly habit. See what a difference it will make in your skin in even ten days—a promise of that loveliness which the regular use of Woodbury's brings to a tender, sensitive skin.

Begin tonight to have a lovelier skin

Get your first cake of Woodbury's today. Begin now to overcome whatever condition is keeping your skin from being as lovely as it should be.

Blackheads, conspicuous nose pores, oily skin and shiny nose, blemishes, a sluggish, sallow skin—treatments for these and others of the commoner skin troubles are given in the booklet "A Skin You Love to Touch" which comes wrapped around the soap.

You will find a 25c cake sufficient for a month or six weeks of any Woodbury treatment and for general cleansing use during this time.

The Pikers Say That Billiken Dark Horse Will Prove to Be Only a Night Mare

Billikens Confident, Pikers Reticent as to Outcome of Battle for Football Honors

Both Elevens Conclude Preparations Today With Light Workouts; Men Are on Edge and Each Coach Will Show "Dark Horse;" Statistics Prove Rivals Are Evenly Matched.

STATISTICS, statements of coaches and opinions of close followers of football here indicate that tomorrow's gridiron struggle between the Washington and St. Louis University elevens, with the city collegiate championship at stake, will be one of the hardest fought in the history of the annual Thanksgiving day classic.

On the day preceding the combat, there is nothing to indicate a decided edge for either team. Optimism concerning the outcome is radiating from both camps, though a bit more pronounced, perhaps, from St. Louis University, for Coach Ernest C. Quigley said today there is nothing, in his opinion, to prevent a victory for the Blue and White.

On the other hand, Coach Dick Rutherford of the Pikers, while asserting that the team carrying the colors of Washington tomorrow would be the best he has ever turned out at the Pikeway, answered a request for a statement as to the team's chances, that the best way to determine the winner would be to "toss a dime and call the turn."

Rutherford Very Cautious.

If this statement can be taken as a criterion of Rutherford's feelings, he is not at all certain of the outcome. The Pikeway coach, however, is not given to predictions, nor is he inclined to boast of the prowess of his eleven. He prefers, rather, to hold his opinions in reserve, thereby avoiding the necessity of producing an alibi in a possible defeat.

So much for the views of the coaches. Of the two elevens, Washington has the better record, since the Pikers have not been defeated this season. St. Louis University bowed to the strong Depauw eleven, 10 to 6, and battled to a scoreless tie against the Great Lakes aviators.

Those who follow the dope, though, are not inclined to take the records of either team seriously. This is due to the fact that neither coach has permitted his eleven to "open up" and show all the varied plays at their command. Practically all season, there has been an inclination on the part of both Quigley and Rutherford to win, if possible, by straight football.

Both leaders have been holding their "pet plays" in reserve for the big battle tomorrow.

Billikens Have Weight Advantage.

The figures on the weights of the elevens, show the Billikens will carry an edge of about five pounds into the struggle tomorrow. Practically all of this is concentrated in the line, however, as the Pikers' backfield will average 163 against 162 for St. Louis U. Hence, on sheer weight there is little to choose as between the teams.

Individual stars are expected to play a big part in the result. This is due chiefly to the fact that Washington University undoubtedly will show one of the most notable players that ever performed on a local gridiron, Eber Simpson having been an All-Western quarterback while at Wisconsin University.

In addition, Joe Evans, a professional baseball player, will be at one of the halves—possibly right half—when the Pikers take the field. Evans is a graduate of Mississippi, he having not only played, but coached there for a couple of seasons as well. He is the "dark horse" Rutherford was supposed to be holding in reserve for the Billikens.

Against this duo, St. Louis University will pit one man of unquestioned ability, Capt. Bill Higgins, whom some regard as the greatest backfield man developed at St. Louis U. since the days of Frank Acker. It is no secret at St. Louis U. that the entire hopes of the student body, as well as Coach Quigley, are constructed around Higgins. If the Pikers stop the terrific line plunging of Capt. Bill, the game is bound to be a bitter struggle.

Facts on Tomorrow's Struggle for Gridiron Supremacy in St. Louis

PARTICIPANTS: St. Louis University Billikens and Washington University Pikers.

RIVAL COACHES: Ernest C. Quigley, St. Louis U., and Richard Rutherford, Washington U.

UNIVERSITY COLORS: St. Louis, blue and white; Washington, red and green.

SCENE OF CONTEST: Francis Field, Washington University.

HOW REACHED: University Olive street car to end of line, thence two blocks south. Auto route, west on Lindell boulevard.

STARTING TIME: 2:30 o'clock p. m.

OFFICIALS: Magidsohn (Michigan), referee; Birch (Earlham), umpire; Don Henry, head linesman.

ADMISSION PRICES: General admission, $1; grand stand box seats, $1.50; field box seats, $2. Ten per cent war tax must be added to these prices.

Struggle Between Simpson and Higgins Expected to Be Feature; Berger Ready

CONDITIONS are almost identical at Washington U. as concerns Eber Simpson. And yet, Coach Quigley is inclined to discount the one-man theory, contending that it is necessary to have the support of 10 additional athletes to make for success on the gridiron.

Early today both coaches announced that all members of their squads are in the best of physical condition, with one or two minor exceptions, which today's light workouts are expected to eradicate.

Yesterday it appeared that Forest Dennis, a Billiken regular, might be forced to miss the contest. Today, however Coach Quigley while refusing to state outright that Dennis would be available for duty, intimated he would be.

The only doubtful regular on the Pikers' squad is Capt. Berger, who is nursing an injured knee. Berger, however, is certain to start, though he may have to retire later in the game. Frank Doran, whose injured shoulder forced him to retire from the Billikens' squad early in the season, has rejoined Coach Quigley's charges and expects to start at the middle position tomorrow. In case Doran is forced to give up, Quigley has a capable substitute in Donovan.

Lines Seem Nearly Equal.

What styles of play the elevens will adopt are unknown at this time. Because of the great weight and strength of the rival lines, which presages only indifferent success at plunging, there is every reason to expect an aerial battle. This is believed by many to be the point in favor of the Pikers, for it is contended by Washington's followers that the Billikens have no man quite so good on forward passes as Simpson.

To offset this, Coach Quigley points out that the Billikens have successfully stopped every effort to beat them with forward passes this season, with one exception. If the passing attack fails to get results, the struggle is likely to revert to a battle of strategy between coaches. And many fans have long awaited a chance to watch the much-talked-about trick plays of both teams.

Wagering About Even.

There is little wagering about the city on the outcome of the game, another sign that the wiseacres consider it an even match. However, it is reported among the students of the schools that St. Louis U. followers are getting 6 to 5 for their money, Washington's favoritism apparently being based entirely on the presence of Simpson. Downtown betting sharps are making it a 13 to 10, take-your-pick proposition.

Both squads will taper off their training today. Coach Quigley will make his final appeal to the boys subsequent to a short "limbering-up" session, while Coach Rutherford said he probably would do nothing aside from a final signal drill.

The season's records of the rivals follow:

WASHINGTON U.		ST. LOUIS U.
33 Detachment ..	0	79 McKendree ...	0
13 McKinley H...	0	21 Scott Field...,	7
7 Soldan High...	7	6 De Pauw.....	10
14 Second team...	0	0 G. Lakes Av...	0
29 Westminster ..	6	30 Rose Poly.....	0
26 Rolla	0	—	—
26 Drake	0	136	17
46 Scott Field....	14
194		27

Little Chance to Compare Teams.

From the above, it can be seen the only game by which a line on the relative merits of the teams can be gained is that with Scott Field. It must be considered, however, that when the Belleville Aviators played the Billikens, they presented a much stronger front than against the Pikers.

To offset this, Washington puts forth the claim that in beating Scott Field, they use their regulars for only a short period and their second string men massed a total of more than twce as many points against only a slightly weaker team than St. Louis U. faced.

Withal, the two elevens have met very few strong opponents this season. The Depauw game was the real test for the Billikens and while they were beaten, Coach Quigley said he never coached a team that played any better than did St. Louis U. in that game.

The football weights and probable opening lineups:

The Passing Show.

THE Billiken and Piker squads
Will play a game tomorrow;
Their followers will bet their wads
And all that they can borrow.
The rooters will flock out to see
The opposition harassed;
And when it's over some will be Financially embarrassed.

The German people yell for grub
And raise a great commotion;
Though tons of food they sent by sub
To rot down in the ocean.
If they had all the million tons
They sent down to the bottom
'Twould feed those sixty million Huns
And make 'em fat, dod rot 'em!

The Bolsheviki ran amuck
In New York's famous garden;
Against that sort of whiskered truck
Our heart we'll have to harden.
They must be made to understand
Their system is not wanted,
And that there's no place in our land
Where red flags may be flaunted.
The guys who fix the price of eggs
Are putting up a swell game;
In fact it might be said those yeggs
Are pulling off a shell game.
But while they mulct us of our jack
And keep us daily coughing
The straw that broke the camel's back
Now hovers in the offing.

We'll let them push us just so far
And then we'll start rebelling;
At present prices we will bar
The product they are selling.
We'll start an egg plant in our yard
Those pesky pirates scorning;
Then we can have 'em soft or hard
For breakfast every morning.

And there's another guy we'll can
As soon as we are able;
That predatory butter man
Plays havoc with our table.
We'll buy no butter for our bread
From any old throat-cutter;
We'll buy a billy goat instead
And put the "butt" in butter.

JOINT SESSION OF TWO LEAGUES NEEDED, SAYS HEYDLER OF NATIONAL

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The way to start baseball house cleaning is for the National and American Leagues to hold a joint session of two days or more, and consider the various proposed reforms. John Heydler, acting president of the National League said here today.

"There is altogether too much aloofness, suspicion and lack of confidence between the club owners of the two leagues," Mr. Heydler said, in explaining his proposal. "It is all right to fight each other on the ball field, during the playing season, but at other times there should be at least ordinary business co-operation that exists in other competitive lines.

"An attempt to carry on a so-called reconstruction program without the sincere aid of the 16 club owners, as well as of authorized representatives of the minor leagues, would result in absolute failure."

CHAMPION KIECKHEFER CHALLENGES HOPPE TO THREE-CUSHION MATCH

August Kieckhefer of Chicago, who last week successfully defended his three-cushion championship, for the sixth time, has challenged Willie Hoppe, the balkline "king," to an angle match for $2000 or $5000 Kieckhefer says the match can be played either in New York or Chicago.

Kieckhefer announces that he is willing to turn over all the receipts to the Red Cross and will give Hoppe three months in which to practice. Kieckhefer at present is playing in sensational form, he having averaged better than 1 in his last two title matches.

STECHER AND ZYBSZKO WRESTLE HOUR TO DRAW

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Wladek Zbyszko of Poland and Joe Stecher of the Great Lakes Naval Training Station went to a draw in a 1-hour catch-as-catch-can wrestling match at Madison Square Garden last night. The event was staged for the benefit of the United War Work fund. Neither man was able to obtain a decisive hold.

Three other matches, at the same style, of 30 minutes' duration, resulted in draws between Jess Westergaard and Leon L. Hood; John Kilonis and "Cyclone" Rees and Jorn Olin and Renato Cardini.

"Tommy" Draak defeated Fred Pilakoff in 9 minutes with a toehold, and George Bruce threw John Smithson, U. S. N., with a full Nelson in 10 minutes 27 seconds.

In a jiu-jitsu match Will Bingham won from Bert H. Gross.

CENTRAL AND YEATMAN ARE EVENLY MATCHED

Coach Mike Walker's Central High School eleven, heavy favorites this year to win the high-school championship, may progress another step toward this objective tomorrow afternoon, when they meet Yeatman. Because neither team has as yet tasted defeat, this contest was shoved back and will be played as the second portion of the twin bill at High School Field. McKinley and Cleveland will meet in the curtain raiser at 1:30 o'clock.

Central already owns two victories this season and seems destined to go through the schedule without suffering defeat. Coach Walker has rounded out a formidable aggregation, and while the same might be said of Yeatman, the midcityans will be a slight favorite, because they are the more seasoned.

Coach Crosby's McKinley eleven, which was beaten by Soldan last Saturday after a bitter struggle, should have little trouble with Cleveland, as the latter possesses a very light and green team this season. This contest will start at 1:30.

A fact:

At these, the two leading hotels in the Nation's capital, Army and Navy men, statesmen, leaders of industry and prominent men from all sections of the United States may be found in greater numbers, perhaps, than at any other hotels in the country.

At the Willard, Fatima is by far the biggest-selling cigarette—which bears out, once again, what we have been saying all along about the nation-wide preference for this brand.

This is even further borne out by the fact that at the exclusive Shoreham only one cigarette (a 25c brand) outsells Fatima.

By John E. Wray.

Phil Ball, president of the St. Louis American League Baseball Club, departed for Chicago last night on Government business first and baseball affairs thereafter. Ball expects to confer with president B. B. Johnson of the American League within the week.

If there is anything of truth in the ancient belief that the aural appendages tingle and burn when their owner is the subject of unpleasant comment, the ears of Harry Frazee, the Boston baseballshevist, will be as red as the town sot's nose. Harry, in short, is charter member of the "In Bad" club.

Ball did not outline what he expected to propose to Johnson; but he ventured the prediction that it would not be a bad risk to gamble that Frazee would not be with baseball for long.

"Frazee's methods have not pleased the other owners of the league, either prior or subsequent to his advent in baseball," Ball remarked. "He is especially out of favor at this time. I can make no prediction what action will be taken relative to Frazee at the next annual meeting."

Johnson Strongly Intrenched.

For his activities in connection with the Taft incident, his militancy in the matter of issuing the Cleveland statement in which he attacked Johnson, for his hostility to the American League policy in other ways he is marked for the ax. No possible coalition of malcontents could muster force enough to overcome Johnson's power, which includes the support of Ball, Dunn, Navin, Comiskey, Mack, Shibe, Minor and Ruppert. The cards are stacked against him in advance. American League owners may desire to make certain changes of an administrative nature designed to ease President Johnson of the burden of ALL the league work. But Johnson's job is absolutely safe—that is the consensus opinion of conservatives today.

The Red Guards Doomed.

Frazee is not the only member of the Baseballsheviki over whose demoted head the extinguisher hangs. Others of the Fed fraternity, out after autocracy's scalp, are in danger. Veteran Joe Vila, who views things as in a glass darkly, lists the present membership of the "In-bads" about as follows:

HAL CHASE.—Awaiting sentence; sure to be barred. Gambling and bad record charged.

GARRY HERRMANN AND JOHN BRUCE.—Decapitation officially, as members of the National Commission. Diplomatic blunders alleged.

CHARLES WEEGHMAN.—Will give way to Fred Mitchell as president of the Cubs. Hoarse from too much talking.

HARRY FRAZEE.—Will sell out before spring if he gets his price—and perhaps if he doesn't. Lese majeste proven.

GEORGE STALLINGS.—Slated to give way as manager to Hank Gowdy, if Gaffney takes back the Braves. No chance against a soldier.

LIEUTENANT-COLONEL T. L. HUSTON.—Will sell half interest in Yankees to Jacob Ruppert and quit baseball. Equestrian; too fond of riding the high horse.

The baseball future of most of these men will be determined by the course of events at the annual meetings of the two leagues early in December. All of them have been disagreeably in the limelight at times, although the offenses of Herrmann and Bruce have been merely those of diplomacy or tact.

Players in Plenty Available.

Announcement that Tris Speaker and Wallie Pipp had been granted their discharges from the army is taken to mean that baseball players will be available in sufficient numbers to permit of reopening the season on a strictly major league basis, next April. If the War Department empties the home stations and camps of soldiers and sailors at the rate of 30,000 a day, only 60 days will be required for complete demobolization of those under arms in this country.

This means that a great majority of baseball players in the service—there are 264 altogether—as well as those in munitions and steel work, will be discharged by the time the training season for baseball begins. Doubtless, in addition, many ball players now in France will be sent back as well. Only two Cardinals, Miller and Snyder, are overseas, and the others will probably be available, this spring.

Circuit Changes Improbable.

It is practically a foregone conclusion that there will be no major league circuit changes at the coming meeting of the majors, notwithstanding the bumper crop of rumors concerning the transfer of the Washington franchise to Toronto, Canada, and of the St. Louis National League franchise to Kansas City.

It is recognized by baseball men everywhere that no losing team can be successful in competition with another of higher standing. St. Louis has shown its willingness to patronize any or all teams of first division caliber. Club owners who do not make money here have themselves or their managers to blame, not the fans.

Washington, for some time, has been an indifferent baseball city. It improved under war conditions and is, no doubt, permanently better off than formerly. The fact that the Washington owners recently invested several hundred thousands of dollars in a new plant seems a guarantee that they will not be shunted out of their holdings.

WEBSTER ELEVEN PLAYS MAPLEWOOD IN COUNTY TITLE GAME TOMORROW

The Webster High School football team, present county champion, is scheduled to oppose Maplewood High at Webster Field tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in a game to decide the 1918 championship. Webster, because of its past showing, will be the favorite. According to reports, Maplewood will outweigh Robert's charges. The probable lineups:

Webster.	Position.	Maplewood.
Avis	Left end	Stormont
Elam	Left tackle	Kraemer
Thornton	Left guard	Avis
Cantwell	Center	Koester
Gains	Right guard	Riek
Baldwin	Right tackle	Schulz
Spencer	Right end	De Boyd
Vaughn	Quarterback	Green
Lincoln	Left halfback	Kitchell
Wright	Right halfback	Branch
Morris	Fullback	Ryall

Officials—Howard Haynes (Central), referee: Archie Klein (Missouri), umpire.

SOCCER TEAMS ASKED TO REPORT ON TIME

The champion Ben Millers, who last Sunday lost their first game of the season, are scheduled to oppose the Scullins in the opening contest of the regularly scheduled St. Louis Soccer League doubleheader at Cardinal Field. The Innisfails oppose the St. Louis Screw Co. in the second.

President Winton Barker has requested players of all the teams to report on time for tomorrow's battles. Last Sunday, the games were late in starting and it was dark when the second battle ended. The opening game tomorrow commences at 2:15 o'clock. Phil Kavanaugh will referee.

WOLGAST FILES SUIT TO END GUARDIANSHIP

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 27.—Adolph Wolgast, once lightweight champion of the world, filed a petition in the Probate Department of the Superior Court here yesterday to end a guardianship of his affairs and regain control of property valued in the petition at $13,000.

Wolgast's property was placed in the hands of a guardian in 1917. He alleges in his petition that he is now fully competent to direct his own affairs.

Brock to Meet Britt.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 27.—Matt Brock of this city and Frankie Britt of New Bedford, Conn., a pair of 130 pounders, are scheduled to box 10 rounds here tomorrow. It will be the first bout of the season in the Forest City. The pair met in Boston last August and Brock lost on a foul in the seventh round.

Football Notes

Official attendance figures for the Pittsburg-Georgia Tech game at Pittsburg last Saturday show that 22,988 persons paid to see the title contest between the two unbeaten elevens. There were about 3000 free tickets, which made the total attendence close to 26,000. The crowd was the largest that ever witnessed a football game at Forbes Field. The clash was for the benefit of the United War Work campaign fund, which even if the price of admission was only $1, netted close to $20,000 for the fund, figuring expenses.

"Buddy" Kling, the former Pikeway captain and end, played at fullback for the Camp Greenleaf eleven in the battle with Camp Gordon last Saturday. Greenleaf won, 26—7, and accounts of the game state "that Kling's line plunging proved one of the sensations of the contest." The Camp Greenleaf aggregation is anxious to book a contest with Georgia Tech, which defeated Gordon, 28—0.

The service championship of Greater New York will be decided tomorrow afternoon at Columbia Field, when the Brooklyn Navy Yard opposes Camp Mills. Men in uniform will be admitted free. This will be the only important battle in Gotham on Turkey day.

Bolen, the former Ohio State end, who last season was the unanimous selection All-Western selection for that position, is now playing left end and is captain of the Princeton Aviators. He scored one of the touchdowns for the aggregation in the contest with Harvard Radio. Stein, former W. & J. star, is fullback for the Aviators.

• • •

Joe Bonds, the heavyweight boxer played left guard for the Granite State team in the clash with Newport in the United War Work benefit in New York last Saturday. According to reports, Bonds played a good game and was not even breathing hard at the finish. Another fighter who once starred on the gridiron was Jack Munro, who played with the Crescent A. C., a famous New York organization.

Unless some of the players improve, the Butler eleven will be in a crippled condition for the contest with Rose Poly at Terre Haute Saturday. A few of the injuries suffered by Butler men in the game with Miami last Saturday follow: Halfback Rowley, compound fracture of the leg; End Seyfried, sprained ankle; End Wales, teeth knocked out; Tackle McDaniel, sprained hip; Guard Helm, arm sprained; End Spotts, knee wrenched, and Dailey, sprained knee.

Quests through the Post-Dispatch Theatrical "Want" columns are being made effectively every day.

MERCANTILE MARINE FEATURE OF STOCK LIST

Price Jumps 8 Points on Offer of Government to Purchase Ships.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.

The strong advance in the stock market yesterday brought in buying orders at the opening of trading today, and prices were firm to higher on many of the standard shares. Business was fairly broad. Foreign news was negative.

Reports to the Department of Commerce shows imports in October valued at $247,000,000, against $262,000,000 in September and compared with $221,000,000 in October of last year. For the 10 months ended with October, exports amounted to $5,063,000,000, as compared with $5,146,000,000 for the same period of a year ago.

Imports of gold were less than $1,500,000 for October, against $4,000,000 in same month last year, and for 10 months ended October there were $58,000,000, against $532,000,000 in the same period of 1917.

Gold exports during October were $2,000,000, against $11,000,000 a year ago and in the 10 months ended October there were $36,000,000, against $360,000,000 last year.

Imports of silver during 10 months ended in October were $62,000,000, against $38,000,000 for the same period of 1917. Exports of silver increased in the same period from $69,000,000 to $197,000,000.

DETAILED REPORT OF DAY'S TRADING IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Shippings were buoyant at the opening of today's stock market on announcement of the offer of the United States Government to purchase the large tonnage of the Mercantile Marine Co. Marine preferred opened with a sale of 8000 shares at 112 to 110, a maximum overnight gain of 8 points. The 6 per cent bonds rose 6 points, and Marine common 2¾, while Atlantic Gulf gained 3 points.

Other strong features embraced the Motors, Sugars and Leathers, but Rails and prominent Equipments were irregular. Liberty Fourth 4¼s recorded yet another low quotation at 97.02.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Heavy selling of the general list developed later in consequence of further circumstantial reports dealing with the cancellation of war contracts.

Liquidation, which was accompanied by considerable bear pressure, reflected mainly in motors, coppers and secondary equipments at recessions of 2 to 5 points.

Steels also reacted 1 to 2, and active rails average 1-point losses. Early advances in shippings were partly forfeited and unsettlement extended to various specialties. Liberty Fourth 4¼s sold down to 97.

Publication of more definite details concerning the mercantile marine deal caused a further jump of 7½ points in Marine preferred at midday. Railway Steel Spring advanced 3½ points on its increased dividend and the leaders rallied 1 to 3 points.

POLICE ITEMS

MRS. GUSTAV HOYER, 4547A DELmar boulevard, was beaten unconscious and robbed of $57 and a diamond ring by two men who pushed their way into her home when she answered her doorbell at 9 o'clock last night. She told the police she had seen one of the men before, a few days ago, when he inquired if she had a room to rent.

MRS. EVA SCHWARTZ, OWNER OF A grocery at 805 O'Fallon street, was alone in the store at 4 p. m. yesterday when an armed man entered and ordered her to back against the wall. As he opened the cash register and found only $1.50, he asked Mrs. Schwartz if that was all the money she possessed. "That's all," she said. "I'm too much of a gentleman to take a lady's last dollar," he remarked, and backed out of the place.

MRS. NAOMI WHEELER, 5327 PERSHing avenue, was shopping in Union Market yesterday when a thief picked up her muff valued at $100 and disappeared.

MISCELLANEOUS

D. O. FITZGERALD, 35 YEARS OLD, ASsistant cashier of the Third National Bank, died yesterday at the Jewish Hospital from pneumonia, following influenza. He is survived by a widow and two children. Burial will be in Austin, Tex.

EDWARD ARNOTT, 24 YEARS OLD, 1152 Sutter avenue, was repairing a tire on his automobile in Washington boulevard near King's highway at 5 p. m. yesterday, when he was struck and seriously injured by another automobile driven rapidly east on Washington boulevard. He was knocked to the sidewalk. The driver did not stop. Harry Burns, 13, 916 La Salle street, suffered concussion of the brain and scalp wounds when he backed into an automobile driven by Oscar Steinhauer, 1316 South Ninth street, at Broadway and Park avenue.

Charged With Intent to Kill.

A warrant charging assault with intent to kill was issued today for Earl Dowling of 4325 St. Louis avenue, who Monday afternoon shot Walter Kunsemueller of 3886 Windsor place at his home. It is charged that Dowling called at the house and became involved in a argument at the door with Mrs. Kunsemueller, and that when her husband resented the language used by Dowling, he fired two shots, one of which struck Kunsemueller. Kunsemueller is expected to recover.

COTTON IS IRREGULAR IN TRADING IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The continued bullish character of Southern spot advices, absence of hedge selling and relatively firm cables gave the cotton market a very steady tone at the opening today. First prices were unchanged to 15 points higher on covering, while there also was considerable Wall street and spot-house buying, which sent December contracts up to 28.31c, January to 27.35c and March to 26.67c, making net gains of 15 to 26 points.

This advance met considerable scattered realizing for over the holiday, however, while there also was some further selling, believed to be for Japanese accounts, which held the market in check and caused some irregularity.

Prices turned easier late in the morning. There was no change in the general character of the news from the spot markets and no apparent pressure of Southern selling here. Demand was light, however, and prices yielded under further selling by brokers with Japanese connections and scattering liquidation. January broke from 27.35c to 27c, and March sold off from 26.67c to 26.25c, with active months generally showing net losses of about 10 to 27 points just before midday.

Cotton Opening.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Cotton futures opened steady. Dec., 28.25c; Jan., 27.30c; March, 26.50c; May, 26.35c; July, 25.90c.

Liverpool Cotton.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 27.—Cotton spot in fair demand; prices easier; good middling, 22.37d; middling, 21.74d; low middling, 20.69d; good ordinary, 19.16d; ordinary, 18.64d. Sales, 1000 bales, including 135 American.

ROBBERS WOUND TWO MEN

Negroes Shoot Restaurant Keeper and Beat His Companion.

John Karagecsiac, 30 years old, proprietor of a restaurant at 601 South Vandeventer avenue, was shot and seriously wounded, and his cousin, Christ Handwres, 33, proprietor of a restaurant at 1810 Franklin avenue, was beaten unconscious with a revolver at 4 a. m. today when they resisted four negro highwaymen at Vandeventer avenue and Forest Park boulevard.

Karagecsiac was shot in the left breast under the heart. Handwres was struck on the head and his skull depressed. Both are in a critical condition at the city hospital. They carried $115, having just left the restaurant on Vandeventer avenue to go to their home, 2102 Franklin avenue. The robbers ran after the shooting without obtaining anything.

FATHER SIDES AGAINST GIRL

Testifies He Does Not Believe Daughter's Charges Against Youth.

The unusual situation of a father testifying against the veracity of his child developed today in Circuit Judge Falkenhainer's court, where Manuel Lopez, 18 years old, of 7001 South Broadway, was on trial on a statutory charge based on statements of Julia Rodriguez, 13 years old, of 7001A South Broadway.

The father, Generoso Rodriguez, appeared as a witness for Lopez, and testified that he did not believe the girl told the truth in her accusations against Lopez.

Alton May Drop Skip Stops.

Discontinuance of the skip-stop plan recently adopted by street cars in Alton will be discontinued by the City Council tonight. On account of Alton's many hills the plan has not proved satisfactory.

CORN MARKET HIGHER IN TRADE ON 'CHANGE

Corn futures sold over 1c higher shortly after the opening of the market here today, then encountered considerable profit-taking based on the wide advance of yesterday. There was little in the market news to influence sentiment other than small receipts and talk of large foreign requirements, which have supported prices ever since the armistice was signed.

Oats futures were firm with corn, but trade was limited to fit professionals. Statistical news was bullish.

Oats receipts here today were 44,000 bu, against 108,000 bu last year. Shipments 59,000 bu, against 80,000. Corn receipts 55,000 bu, against 63,000 bu; shipments 45,000 bu, against 80,000 bu. Wheat receipts 61,000 bu, against 54,000 bu; shipments 139,000 bu, against 85,000 bu.

Jan. corn opened 1⅛c higher, at $1.31¾, then lost to $1.31¼. Feb. was quoted ⅞c up, at $1.30 bid. Jan. oats sold ¼c higher, at 71½c.

CORN VALUES ARE FIRM ON THE BOARD OF TRADE

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Although evening-up for the holiday tomorrow gave to the corn market today some transient strength, the general trend of the market was toward a lower level. Bulges brought out selling on the part of leading commission houses. Aggressive support was lacking.

Opening quotations, which varied from ⅛c to 1⅛c higher, with Dec., $1.25⅝ to $1.26¼, and Jan., $1.26¾ to $1.27¼, were followed by moderate further gains, and then by a decline to well below yesterday's finish.

Oats fluctuated with corn. Changes, however, kept inside of narrower limits. After opening at the same as yesterday's close to ⅜c higher, the market hardened a little, and later underwent a decided general sag.

Provisions averaged somewhat higher. Offerings were light, especially ribs.

Government Wheat Prices.

Prices in St. Louis at which the Government is prepared to buy wheat. There is no restriction to the price mills or dealers may pay other than the maximum prices obtainable for flour:

The Farmer Must Be Financed

is the subject of an article recently published in Scribner's magazine that every investor should read. Why? Because it explains in detail why the farmer, who mans the second line trenches, must be financed, as the only means of increasing the productive efficiency of such elements of production as remains at home.

You are not only interested in knowing that by purchasing Farm Loans you are aiding essential industry, but that you are utilizing your money in such a way as to aid in reducing the cost of these essentials, food and clothing, to mankind.

Over half of the money in the Savings Banks of Vermont is invested in Farm Loans secured by farms in the West and South. This has come about gradually because they have proven to be the safest form of investment procurable after many years experience, and the Bank Commissioner of Vermont approves their purchase in well selected territory such as we loan in. Their experience should be a guide to you in making your selection of investments.

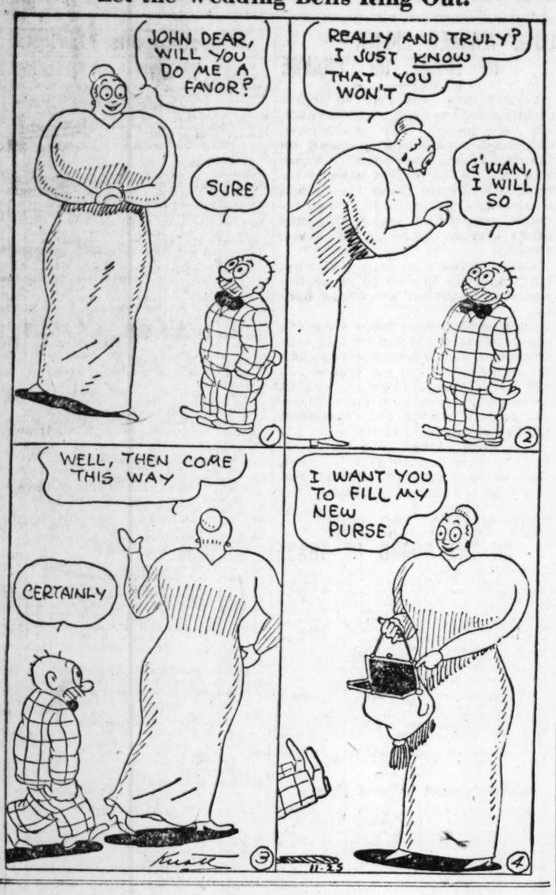

Call or write for our descriptive circulars of Farm Loan Notes, $100, $500 and upwards, yielding 6% interest.

PENNY ANTE—Exchanging Compliments. By Jean Knott

Common Ways of Wasting Fats.

THE Food Administration presents the following list of ways in which many housewives commit the sin of wasting fats:

By serving baked ham with large portions of fat on the edge.

By throwing away fat trimmed from beef or other fresh meat.

By serving large butter or margarine balls to each person.

By using heavy cream.

By frying food in deep fat.

By frying food when it would be as well or better to bake or stew it.

By making pies or other pastries when simpler desserts would be more nourishing.

Some Uses of Adhesive Tape.

ONE of the most convenient agents of the handy box is a roll of adhesive tape. A small piece of it on the bottom of a thin sole will add considerably to the endurance of a pair of shoes. A linen window shade that has started to tear will be prevented from doing so further by a narrow strip of the tape pressed over the tear. A torn bathing cap may be made seaworthy by it.

When traveling, a strip of it plastered over the stopper of a perfume bottle will cling to either side of the bottle without any outside help, thus keeping the liquid from escaping.

Putting It Over.

THE maiden was vexed.

"I know," said she, "that I am not the first girl you loved—you make love so beautifully."

"Oh, I learned that from watching moving pictures," said the quick-thinking young man.

Whereupon the maiden was satisfied.—Film Fun.

Not Original.

MR. CHURCH: How was the sermon this morning at church?

Mrs. Church: I didn't seem to care for it.

"Was it an original sermon?"

"Oh, no. A lot of it was taken from the Bible."—Yonkers Statesman.

Thrift.

ONE afternoon a woman was walking through a suburban village, when she noticed a small boy leaning on a gate in front of one of the residences. The boy's attitude did not betray any great amount of ambition.

"I am surprised to see you standing here, my little man," said the woman, kindly. "Why do you idle away your time on such a beautiful afternoon?"

"I am not idling," defiantly declared the boy. "I am working for a Thrift Stamp."

"Working for a Thrift Stamp?" wonderingly responded the woman, who couldn't see any signs of labor.

"Yes, ma'am," returned the boy. "Mr. Smith is sitting on the veranda with sister, and he told me that he would give me the price of a Thrift Stamp if I would watch for father."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Couldn't Understand It.

THE landlady of a well known boarding house always made it a point to ask each departing guest to write something in her visitors' book. She was very proud of it and of some of the people whose names were in the volume and the nice things they said.

"But there's one thing I can't understand," the lady confided to a friend, "and that is what an American gentleman wrote in the book after stopping here. People always smile when they read it."

"What was it?" asked the friend.

"He only wrote the words 'Quoth the raven.'"—London Tit-Bits.

A Professional Secret.

"WHAT'S the use of having grand opera singers in the movies? Their glorious voices are lost on the public."

"I'll let you in on a professional secret."

"Well?"

"The stage is full of grand opera singers who think they can act."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Delicate Children Vinol is What They Need

More than eight thousand druggists recommend Vinol because it contains in deliciously palatable form the oldest and most famous reconstructive tonics known to medicine. During the last sixteen years it has brought health and happiness to thousands of puny, ailing, anaemic children.

Middletown, Conn.

"I used Vinol for my little girl five years old for a rundown, nervous condition. She was thin, irritable all the time and had no appetite. In a week I noticed an improvement and now she has a good appetite, has gained in flesh and strength and is much pleasanter."—Mrs. C. B. Wilkinson.

Manville, R.I.

"The whooping cough,—and later the measles left my little boy of eight years with no appetite, thin, frail, delicate and tired all the time. After everything else had failed Vinol gave him a hearty appetite, restored his strength and he is now as well as ever."—Mrs. James H. Hall.

For all run-downs, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like Vinol.
